Dear Farmers,

Do you have a grain marketing plan for 2016? Would you like to learn how to write a plan? It's really not all that hard. The Winning the Game program uses a game simulation to take you through a marketing year using your plan. Winning the Game was developed by the University of Minnesota but has been adapted for Maryland farmers.

These workshops are coming up soon! The first workshop is in New Market on Tuesday, January 26th. I'm pretty sure you'll find these sessions to be very educational and fun. The attached flyer has registration information for these meetings. I hope to see you at one of the sessions.

Thanks,

Doug
