Hello, my name is Devin Lucas, and I am one of the original founding members of The Free Theatre, a student-centered educational theatre company based in Rockville, MD (www.thefreetheatre.org). As a tuition-free company that does not ask any financial contribution from its participating students and families, The Free relies solely on donations, government funding, and independent grants to survive. The proposal to fund arts programs would deeply help The Free, especially in such a difficult time, and I ask that you vote to pass it. Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Devin Lucas
