Re: Letter of Support for Montgomery County's proposed Building Energy Performance Standards

To the Montgomery Council Legislative Branch,

My name is Andrew Zimdahl and I run an energy consulting firm in Northwest Washington DC that specializes in assisting multifamily and commercial clients improve their building's energy efficiency and access sustainable sources of energy. We enthusiastically support BEPS legislation in Montgomery County.

Our firm has focused a lot of our resources on helping our clients comply with the new BEPS regulations in DC. We are planning on hiring locally to meet the increase in demand for BEPS related services and expanding into the Montgomery County market would allow us to grow our workforce significantly. Having local expertise in this market will be critical for our company's success.

We believe BEPS will help Montgomery County continue to be a leader in the nationwide effort to create a sustainable economy and are happy to avail our company's resources to help facilitate.

Sincerely,
Honeydew Energy Advisors
