

Having a mobile medical clinic to connect uninsured, under-insured, and under-resourced children and youth (ages 0-21 years) to healthcare and increase the number of children and youth who receive vaccinations needed for overall health and to enroll in school. Having a resource such as this would be one of many ways to collectively and equitably provide much needed services for those that are less fortunate.

Veronica Palleres