INCLUSION CENTERED

The new document includes specific details on how to center inclusion based on feedback from former/current utilizers

The document offers tools, links to trainings, and examples of how to structure procedures to be more inclusive

The new Standards include/highlight specific protections for historically and systemically marginalized identities

The updated Written Standards has been built utilizing the voice of the community

VALUES FOCUSED

The new document reflects the current values of the system and offers practical application suggestions for many of the system values

System Standards

Person-Centered Culture

A person-centered culture ensures that communications, values, and actions convey respect, view all persons as experts in their own lives, and emphasizes quality of life, wellbeing, and inclusion.

Every member of the system is expected to foster an easy-access, supportive, and safe environment for all people. Providers are expected to engage system utilizers with respect, judgment and by utilizing soft skills, such as emotional intelligence, self-awareness, active listening, and empathy. To best achieve this, recipients and participating programs are expected to require and maintain regular trainings for all staff. Mandatory trainings

Program Standards

Creating A Culture of Respect, Dignity, and Compassion

Expectations for staff at all levels to create a safe, welcoming, supportive environment for utilizers are taken seriously. The County strongly emphasizes that programs within the CoC are expected to maintain a culture where utilizers feel safe and respected by staff at all levels. Meaningful ways to foster a positive environment within all programs is a top priority. Corrective measures for ensuring that all staff members are in compliance with this mandate must be developed within each program. Furthermore, all operational mandates will be transparent and available to staff and utilizers. Programs should have written standards detailing:

- how staff will be trained, the type of training received, and how performance will be evaluated
- how conflicts with utilizers will be handled
- standards for interactions with system utilizers
- grievance protocols
- details regarding discharge policy
- protocols for de-escalating crisis

Harm Reduction

All programs are required to follow harm reduction practices when working with individuals or families with substance abuse issues. These requirements include:

- Connecting utilizers with substance use services
  - Utilizer follow-through on those services is not required for ongoing assistance
- Assistance cannot be terminated for the following:
  - Lack of income
  - Participating in substance use/lack of sobriety
    - If projects have evidence of utilizers engaging in illegal behavior in an assisted unit, proper steps must be taken to meet the needs of the utilizer before termination of assistance
  - Prior conviction/record
- Projects may choose to hold units or positions for a specified number of days allowing the utilizer to seek substance use treatment or other in-patient options without losing housing or position within the system
- When unable to distribute harm-reduction supplies, staff should be knowledgeable about current local resources and access points
- Identifying the appropriate crisis-service intervention and avoiding taking actions which may negatively impact the person's access to housing options

IMPROVED UNDERSTANDING

In addition to less technical language the updated Standards also breakdown the how behind the system values

HOW TO USE

Read Through

The 50 page document outlines all program standards and outlines the basics of how each should operate

Use the Links

The new Standards have links to resources, definitions and training tools

Put it to Work

The new Standards is a living document—the best way to keep it alive is to apply it to your work

NEXT STEPS

Now that the momentum is there—don't lose it. Here are some things the County could consider moving forward.

Intentional Case Mapping

The silos within the system were identified as one of the biggest creators of system gaps. Connect with others doing the work to overcome those barriers.

Communicate Across the Lines

County policies should be informed by the people who are responsible for implementing them. Make sure all policies are well informed and well communicated.

Include more PWLE Throughout the System

The best way to maintain an effective system that meets the needs of the community is to include the voices of those who have experience navigating the system internally.
