Executive Summary

Background and Purpose

The Committee Evaluation and Review Board (CERB) was appointed on May 22, 2024, to conduct the first comprehensive review of Montgomery County's advisory boards, committees, and commissions (BCCs) in over a decade. This Final Report fulfills the mandate established under Montgomery County Code Article XI, Section 2-146, to evaluate both the BCC system as a whole and individual advisory bodies.

The CERB, comprising 10 dedicated county residents, conducted an 18-month review of 54 advisory BCCs through direct observation of meetings, comprehensive questionnaires, interviews with Department heads, and analysis of governing legislation, meeting materials, and websites. This evaluation employed an equitable engagement lens to assess how effectively BCCs channel the diverse experiences and needs of Montgomery County's residents into County government operations.

Key Findings

Montgomery County provides extensive opportunities for community input through its BCC system, with committed individuals contributing valuable professional and lived experiences. However, the CERB identified critical systemic weaknesses that undermine effectiveness and equitable engagement:

Governance and Oversight: The system lacks clear oversight and accountability structures. Neither the County Council nor the County Executive definitively oversees the BCC system, creating confusion about reporting lines and responsibilities. Laws governing BCCs have evolved inconsistently over decades without standardization, resulting in contradictory requirements for membership, reporting, and functions.

System Structure: The BCC structure has become unnecessarily complex and illogical. Regional advisory boards no longer align with current demographic and economic realities. Both geographic and thematic coverage is confusing, with overlapping jurisdictions that perplex residents seeking to engage.

Staffing and Coordination: Staffing levels for the BCC system have remained stagnant for over a decade despite increased demands. Individual Departments struggle with inadequate support, with one County Department managing 20 BCCs. Communication between BCCs, Departments, and the County Council remains inconsistent, with no formal feedback mechanisms to close the loop on recommendations and resident input.

Membership and Participation: Despite aggressive recruitment efforts, BCCs face chronic vacancies and attendance challenges. Many boards are unnecessarily large, making effective facilitation difficult. Legally mandated membership compositions often create structural imbalances, requiring overly specific professional expertise that conflicts with diversity goals. The few existing incentives appear inadequate to remove persistent barriers for participation, especially for youth, working parents, and less affluent county residents.

Public Engagement: BCC websites contain outdated, duplicative, and conflicting information that likely discourages residents seeking involvement. Most BCCs lack proactive engagement strategies and struggle with visibility. County residents remain largely unaware of BCCs and their role in County governance, limiting their effectiveness as channels for community input.

Impact Evaluation: The system lacks a strategic framework and consistent evaluation methodology. Most BCCs operate without strategic plans tied to Department goals, making it difficult to assess their value or communicate their impact to residents. Without clear performance indicators, the County cannot effectively track whether BCCs fulfill their intended purpose.

Recommendations for the System

The CERB presents comprehensive recommendations organized into six strategic priorities:

1. Streamline Governance: Clarify whether BCCs serve the County Council or Executive. Conduct comprehensive legislative revision using uniform language templates. Establish clear mechanisms for action on BCC recommendations, including mandatory department review processes.

2. Reduce System Complexity: Adopt standardized BCC classification. Simplify and realign regional structures to reflect current county demographics, while reducing duplicity through strategic consolidation. Create guardrails for BCC decision-making and escalation procedures.

3. Strengthen Capacity: Increase centralized staffing in the County Executive's Office to strengthen system management and oversight. Establish a County “Board Academy” providing comprehensive training beyond procedural requirements. Review and increase department-level staff support consistently across all BCCs and ensure proactive data sharing.

4. Engage Effective Members: Standardize membership to 10-15 voting members per BCC. Implement targeted recruitment through community organizations, houses of worship, and social service networks. Streamline the application process with a single application and rolling recruitment. Establish robust incentive systems including stipends for labor-intensive BCCs, SSL hours for students, and recreation vouchers.

5. Ensure Visibility: Launch innovative awareness campaigns highlighting the importance of civic participation. Dedicate Public Information Office resources to BCC-specific outreach. Establish standardized information sharing tools for the public. Create a one-stop method for residents to identify and contact relevant BCCs. Conduct comprehensive website audits to ensure consistent, user-friendly navigation.

6. Evaluate for Impact: Implement monitoring and evaluation frameworks tied to the County Strategic Plan. Require strategic planning alignment between departments and their BCCs. Replace decennial CERB reviews with continuous improvement systems powered by consistent data gathering. Consider professional evaluation services for robust system-wide assessments.

Individual BCC Recommendations

Of the 54 advisory BCCs reviewed, the CERB recommends:

- 13 continue without changes (24%)

- 24 continue with specific modifications (44%)
- 11 be eliminated through consolidation or obsolescence (20%)
- 6 be reclassified to non-advisory tiers (11%)

These recommendations address duplicative functions, outdated mandates, chronic dysfunction, and opportunities for strategic consolidation that would strengthen the remaining BCCs while reducing system complexity. The CERB provides additional recommendations for the continuing BCCs to improve their effectiveness and equitable engagement of residents.

Conclusion

Montgomery County's BCC system represents a significant investment in civic engagement, but it requires substantial reform to fulfill its potential. The current system, built incrementally over decades without strategic oversight, no longer serves residents or County government effectively. By implementing these recommendations, Montgomery County can transform its BCC system into a streamlined, accessible, and impactful mechanism for channeling diverse community voices into responsive governance.

The CERB acknowledges that these recommendations represent ambitious changes requiring sustained commitment from both the County Council and County Executive. However, the alternative of maintaining an increasingly complex system that frustrates residents, burdens staff, and fails to demonstrate clear value is untenable. Montgomery County's residents deserve a civic engagement infrastructure worthy of their participation and reflective of their diverse needs.

1. Introduction

This Final Report is submitted to the Montgomery County Executive and County Council by the Committee Evaluation and Review Board (CERB), as required by Montgomery County Code Article XI, Sec. 2-146.

Purpose of the Committee Evaluation and Review Board

As stipulated in Sec. 2-146 of the Montgomery County Code, the Montgomery County Executive must appoint and convene the Committee Evaluation and Review Board. This body is a citizens review committee that reviews each of the Montgomery County Advisory Committees and Boards appointed under Sec. 2-146.

Specifically, the task of the CERB is to “review the group system and each then-existing board, committee, commission, and task force and report to the Executive and Council its recommendations for changes in individual boards, committees, commissions, and task forces and the group system as a whole.” Additionally, the CERB “must review each advisory board that requests continuation under subsection (b)(2) and recommend to the Council whether the advisory board should continue.”

The most recent CERB was formed in 2012 and delivered its findings and recommendations to the County Executive and County Council in 2013. The current CERB was appointed on May 22, 2024, more than 10 years after the previous review effort. CERB members realize the particular urgency to their mandate given the extended timeframe since the previous review.

CERB Composition

The current CERB, consisting of 13 members, as selected by the County Executive as per the statutory requirements, officially convened on the 11th of July. Since July 2024, the CERB has experienced three resignations that lowered the member count to 10. The members of the CERB as of January 1, 2026, are:

Justin Carlson, Jake Didinsky, Muriel Hairston-Cooper (Co-Chair), Mary Ann Keeffe, Deeptaanshu Kumar, Sofya Orlosky (Co-Chair), Karl Pitt, Catherine Sindos, Jeffrey Slavin, and Clint Sobratti. The CERB is supported by Assistant Chief Administrative Officer Ken Hartman-Espada, and Administrative Specialist, Beth Gochrach,

Scope of Review

The CERB is established under Sec. 2-146 to:

“review the group system and each then-existing board, committee, commission, and task force and report to the Executive and Council its recommendations for changes in individual boards, committees, commissions, and task forces and the group system as a whole and submit an interim report to the Executive and Council within 6 months of appointment and submit a final report within 12 months of appointment.”

At the time of this CERB’s appointment, there were 98 boards, committees, and commissions (BCCs), of which 50 were tentatively deemed “advisory,” as defined in Montgomery County Code

Sec. 2-146 Editor's note Sec. 3. (b) (1). After the initial discussions, the CERB was unable to reach consensus on the interpretation of Sec. 2-146 (as amended by Bill 32-11 (1) and Bill 2-05 (2) and as executed in the 2013 CERB report) pertaining to the scope and coverage of the 2024 CERB review and CERB report. Following the consultation with the Office of the County Attorney, the Assistant Chief Administrative Officer established the following classification of County's BCCs based on their statutory authority, function, membership, and governing legislation:

Tier	Type	Description	# of BCCs
1	Advisory Board	As defined in MCC Sec. 2-146 Editor's note Sec. 3 (b) (1).	54
2	Coordinating Body	Primarily composed of representatives of County agencies and/or external agencies coordinating efforts on a particular range of issues.	5
3	Regulatory Body	Primarily performs regulatory functions, such as permitting, complaint review and adjudication, policy development and recommendations for County Council, etc.	7
4	County Agency	Performs regularly scheduled work to implement County policies and programs, has a dedicated staff and a budget.	14
5	External	Established and/or governed by laws or bodies external to the County.	18

The full list of BCCs and their classification is provided in Appendix A.

The CERB requested clarification of the scope of its review following the establishment of this classification rubric. The Assistant Chief Administrative Officer, in consultation with the Office of the County Attorney, directed the CERB, in accordance with Sec. 2-147 subsections (b) and (c), to focus its review solely on advisory BCCs to most closely align the scope of work with the spirit of Sec. 2-146, as amended.

For the purpose of this Report, "BCC" means "advisory board, committee, or commission." Also for the purpose of this report, the Regional Services Centers and the Regional Services Center Directors will be considered Departments and department heads, respectively.

Timeline

The CERB has met monthly and frequently twice monthly for work sessions between July 2024 and the end of December 2025, completing the following project stages:

Period	Work Stage
July – August 2024	Scope review and methodology development
September – November 2024	Data gathering: BCC self-questionnaires
September 2024 – March 2025	Data gathering: BCC visits by the CERB
December 2024 – January 2025	Interim report preparation
April – July 2025	Data gathering: Interviews with Department Directors

June – September 2025	Data review
September – October 2025	Formulation of findings and recommendations
November 2025 – January 2026	Final report preparation

Even though the CERB’s scope of review was limited to approximately 54 advisory BCCs, it became apparent that 12 months is a drastically insufficient amount of time for a volunteer body to complete all data collection, review, and report writing. On August 1, 2025, the CERB requested a six-month extension to the deadline to submit its final report to the County Council, which the President of the Council granted.

Acknowledgements

The work of this CERB and the resulting Final Report builds and expands on the tremendous work conducted by the Committee Review and Evaluation Board in 2012-2013. Its members and the County staff who supported them lay down the critical groundwork to establish the methodology of review and present recommendations so that the resulting changes to the system and individual BCCs could be observed over time.

The CERB would not have been able to accomplish their task without the thoughtful responses from all the BCCs that took time to review and complete the self-assessment questionnaires and welcomed CERB members at their meetings. The CERB also thanks the Department heads who participated in interviews. Finally, we are deeply grateful for the timely and comprehensive support of County staff Beth Gochrach, Eritrea Thomas, Nikki Smallwood, and Ken Hartman-Espada.

2. Methodology

The CERB embarked on its dual mandate to evaluate the group system overall and each advisory board, committee, or commission individually by establishing a grounding framework.

Approach

The CERB review seeks to determine whether the advisory BCCs understand and dutifully implement their mandates, and whether they do so effectively and with the most efficient use of County resources. Specifically, the CERB pursued three main lines of inquiry:

- 1) Purpose and alignment. Are BCCs acting in accordance with their chartered purpose? Is their work aligned with the stated objectives of the BCC and the goals of the corresponding County Department? Is the purpose of the BCC relevant to and reflecting the needs of the county residents?
- 2) Function and operations. Are BCCs implementing the actions stated in their charters? Is their membership full and active? Are they carrying out their business with applicable regulations? Do they have sufficient staff support and access to other necessary County resources?
- 3) Engagement and representation. Do BCCs enjoy robust and active membership? Do members adequately represent the BCC’s relevant stakeholder groups? Do BCCs regularly engage with county residents who are not members of these BCCs or offer opportunities for community participation?

Equitable Engagement

Equitable engagement was a particular focus of this CERB. The overarching policy premise for the establishment of various BCCs in Montgomery County is that “[p]ublic participation in boards, committees, and commissions contributes to the work of County government and provides a valuable service to the community by presenting the concerns and viewpoints of county residents on a variety of issues.”¹ Thus, the CERB worked with County Staff to develop evaluation questions that specifically gauge the BCCs’ ability to effectively channel the varied experiences and needs of the diverse Montgomery County community into the work of the County government in an equitable way. By conducting the review through the equitable engagement lens, the CERB attempts to assess how effective BCCs are in informing communities about issues of focus, facilitating open dialogue with government agencies, soliciting and channeling feedback from diverse members of the public, and championing initiatives that empower county residents to actively shape their communities.

Data Collection and Analysis

The CERB’s review and recommendations are based on the analysis of data collected using the following instruments:

- Review of BCC’s purpose and membership structure as codified in law
- Review of BCC’s website, meeting minutes and agendas
- 49 responses to the self-assessment questionnaire distributed to all BCCs (see template in Appendix C)
- 51 direct observations of the regularly scheduled BCC meetings (see assessment form in Appendix D)
- 7 interviews with the heads of relevant County departments (see interview guide in Appendix E)
- Review of the recommendations from the 2013 CERB Final Report
- Review of the findings and recommendations of the 2024 Office of the Legislative Oversight Contractor Report on Composition of Montgomery County Boards, Commissions, and Committees²

The CERB analyzed the data for individual board and for the BCC system as a whole, working with over 250 text documents. To aid in synthesizing data, identifying patterns, and singling out unique observations across the system, CERB members and County staff utilized AI assistance in accordance with County policy.

Limitations

The CERB is composed of volunteers with widely ranging professional backgrounds and lived experiences, who have come together for the sole purpose of serving on this board. Due to a lack of consistent evaluation framework, CERB members, with support from County staff, had to develop an approach and data gathering tools, and to systematize the resulting data in limited time. With these limitations in mind, CERB’s approach is primarily qualitative, and channels members’ points of view as county residents with diverse lived and professional experiences. The CERB acknowledges that there is a vast body of information about individual BCCs and the system as a whole that it did not have an opportunity to access or incorporate in this report.

3. Key Findings

It is evident that Montgomery County provides a vast range of opportunities for community input and feedback on government services and critical issues through its system of advisory boards, committees, and commissions. Overall, the CERB observed that members of BCCs are committed to the mandates of their groups, stay engaged, and contribute diverse and relevant professional and lived experiences to their work.

However, the CERB has identified weaknesses that undermine the BCC system's effectiveness and ability to equitably engage residents in advancing the County's program and policy priorities.

Governance and Oversight

1) Lack of clarity about oversight, reporting, and accountability lines

CERB members were not able to observe a distinct pattern as to which branch of County government ultimately oversees the BCC system. Some BCCs are required to submit annual reports to the County Council. Others are required to provide advice on Departments' programs and priorities. Several BCCs have overt mandates to conduct advocacy at state and federal levels and to fundraise. However, the County law and publicly facing communication materials fail to explain clearly whether it is the County Council, which legislates BCCs, or the County Executive, whose Department heads are supposed to work with BCCs, that ultimately oversees the system as a whole.

Correspondingly to the unclear oversight, the lines of accountability for BCCs are also unclear. With the number of BCCs assigned to Departments, the CERB discovered some Department heads were unaware that they had oversight of new boards. Furthermore, the requirement of BCCs to provide annual reports to the County Council (while working in support of a County Department) further blurs reporting lines and exposes BCCs to political vulnerability.

2) Variability and confusion in the design and purpose of BCCs over time

The BCC system has evolved over the years, with some boards established decades ago (e.g., Agricultural Advisory Committee, 1976) and others just having their inaugural meetings in 2025 (Community Reinvestment and Repair Fund Commission). The CERB observed significant variation in how purposes and membership requirements are formulated in the law, ranging from vague and open to interpretation (Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Commission, Committee Against Hate/Violence) to overly prescriptive and thus limiting (Animal Services Advisory Committee). Some BCCs are tasked with advocacy activities; most others are explicitly prohibited from them; some are codified to submit an annual report to the County Executive and County Council, the majority of others are required to generate an annual report by default; one BCC is even endowed with the task to raise funds. This variability and the resulting confusion make the task of evaluating the system and holding it to some uniform standard difficult. (Also see Impact Evaluation, below.)

3) Legislation governing BCCs is outdated, inconsistent, and confusing

Laws governing BCCs have evolved piecemeal without alignment across decades, and there appears to be no standard template or approach to establishing a new BCC. There is no guiding policy establishing a definitive strategic framework for types of BCC purposes, functions, membership, and other factors, with relation to the assessment of needs of specific Departments.

Overall, the governing laws call for a combination of voting and non-voting (often ex officio) members, members of the public and County representatives, community partners, and external entities (such as representatives from the State of Maryland). Laws are inconsistent in defining various aspects of BCC's structure and functions: some require the County Executive to appoint the chair and/or officers, others do not. The roles and numbers of ex-officio members vary drastically; whether department representatives are term members or substitutable delegates is often unclear. Some BCCs have bylaws, despite the opposite advice from the County Attorney's Office. It is unclear why some BCCs are required to submit annual reports (with legally prescribed contents) to the County Council; for those who are, the process is not defined, and the role of the County Executive's Office or Department heads in reviewing those reports is not clear.

System Structure and Authority

1) Complex regional structure, duplicative advisory bodies and purposes are confusing

The BCC structure has become complicated and proliferated by attempts to align various BCCs with the political and economic subdivisions of Montgomery County. The County Government has many departments, each with county-wide responsibility. In order to manage support more locally, the County has partitioned the County into five Regional Services Centers (RSCs). The RSCs were established between 1974 and 1985, reflecting the socio-demographic composition of the County. These five centers are administrative only and do not correspond to legislative districts nor do they supersede the rights of the various municipalities in the County.

Montgomery County is also partitioned into municipalities, transportation management districts, and communities/business areas. The County has 19 official municipalities which have their own representative government and ordinances. There are also five County-created urban districts and/or corporations (UD/UC) that are self-funded for specific functions. In addition, there are many community/business associations (including Home-Owner Associations and civic associations) in the unincorporated areas that rely on the County for both representative government and services.

Over the years, legislators created BCCs to address county-wide departmental functions (and sub-functions) and for each of the RSCs to ensure resident input. However, their naming convention, geographic coverage, and alignment with other economic and political subdivisions of the County is no longer logical. For example, the Bethesda-Chevy Chase RSC is supported by the Western Montgomery County Citizens Advisory Board (WMCCAB), whose membership requirements specify representation from the City of Rockville. At the same time, the WMCCAB covers the area represented, partially, by Councilmembers from Districts 1, 3, 4, 6, and At-Large.

With just a few BCCs sunseting over the years, political and pragmatic priorities dictated the establishment of new BCCs over time without any apparent regard for how the new bodies fit into the increasingly opaque system of geographic, economic, transportation, and other special-function bodies. The result is a system devoid of logic or thematic alignment that is incongruent not just to residents, but also to County staff and County Councilmembers.

[Case in Point: Silver Spring] If a resident of Silver Spring wanted to bring up the issue of declining air quality due to the increasing traffic congestion in their neighborhood to the attention of an advisory board, they would need to invest time, intellectual effort, and emotional labor to figure out which BCC to engage with: Silver Spring Citizens Advisory Board; Silver Spring Transportation Management District Advisory Committee; Silver Spring Urban District Advisory Committee; Climate, Energy, and Air Quality Advisory Committee; Commission on Health; or, perhaps, Racial Equity and Social Justice Advisory Committee?

2) Unclear mandates lead to mission creep

In a number of instances, CERB members noted that a broadly defined BCC purpose and an apparent lack of strategic planning have resulted in the BCC undertaking tasks and thematic priorities outside of general mandate of advisory groups and not aligned with Department goals. For example, the CERB observed several BCCs pursuing a heavily advocacy-focused agenda as if they were a standalone organization, resulting in external messaging that may conflict with the County's posture or raising concerns about possible conflict of interest for entities represented on those BCCs (e.g., Animal Services Advisory Committee, Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Commission, Mental Health Advisory Committee).

3) BCCs' added value is not clear to most Departments

The CERB observed that most Departments' leadership, with some exceptions, do not perceive BCCs as partners in the advancement of strategic priorities, but rather another workstream that they need to manage. The great variation in the number of members, the often-overwhelming ratio of officials to members of the public, and the absence of standardized succession planning undermines the ability of advisory BCCs to consistently articulate recommendations rooted in community input and ensure smooth transitions in BCC leadership without disruption of the ongoing work with Department heads.

4) Unclear what impact BCCs have on policy and decisions

While some BCCs have the charge to "advise the County government on all aspects of... finances" and "review the budget" related to their specific area of work, the CERB was not able to verify that these BCCs review Departments' budgets as part of the annual budgeting process. Yet, the CERB did observe some BCCs working on specific program funding requests to Department heads in the FY2025 budget season. Moreover, the CERB noted the hesitancy of BCC members to engage on specific issues or recommendations in what appears to be a perceived lack of authority or clarity about their role.

Staffing and Internal Information Flow

1) Inadequate staffing for the system as a whole and individual BCCs hampers effectiveness

The BCC system is currently coordinated out of the County Executive's Office, with 1.5 full-time equivalents (FTEs) dedicated to member recruitment, onboarding, procedural training, and bimonthly information exchanges among BCC staff. This level of staffing has remained consistent since 2010, when it was reduced from a previous benchmark by 40%. Despite the previous CERB notation that this reduction in staffing and the corresponding increase in responsibilities on the remaining staff had significantly undermined the success of the BCC system, not much has changed since. County BCCs still struggle with recruiting members, communicating successes and the benefits of engagement to county residents, channeling communities' input, and thus contributing to the public trust in the County government.

The proliferation of BCCs appears to have further exacerbated these difficulties, as cited more than a decade ago, the BCCs continue to be assigned to different Departments, with unequal access to staffing support. For example, the Department of Health and Human Services has 20 individual BCCs (advisory and others) assigned to it with corresponding staff liaisons to support their work (not including the Department's three health initiative programs and their respective boards). Similarly, the Department of Environmental Protection has six advisory and non-advisory BCCs with corresponding staff to liaise. At the same time, the Victim Services Advisory Board enjoys two full-time staff. The County staff who do support specific BCCs find themselves in constant challenging positions where they must support the needs of multiple BCCs that may be inconsistent with the priorities of their department leadership.

The CERB is concerned with a lack of a uniform and evidence-based approach to managing the BCC system. The current level of dedicated staffing at the County Executive's Office is clearly insufficient to lead the strategic planning, coordination, oversight, and ongoing evaluation of BCCs, and to serve as a centralized resource hub for County Departments on the best practices in leveraging BCCs for the achievement of their strategic priorities.

2) Limited training for BCC members or staff

When new members join BCCs, they go through training mandated by County and state law, organized by the County Executive's Office. The Executive's Office staff have compiled a BCC Manual, currently under review by the County Attorney's Office, which serves to instruct BCC membership and staff on applicable rules and regulations. However, these materials and onboarding trainings are procedural in nature. The CERB noted that there is currently no effort in place that would provide comprehensive, systematic, and recurring opportunity for county residents serving on BCCs to understand how their board fits in the overall County governance structure, how the BCC functions as a system and how different BCCs should interact with each other, what authorities they have, how they can innovate, when and how they can engage various County departments and County Council, and what the expectations and tools are at their disposal to channel input from their fellow residents.

As Montgomery County struggles to recruit new BCC members, those who do get appointed come on board with various preconceived notions (or lack thereof) of what BCCs are and why they exist. The limited understanding of the true value the BCC can bring can serve as a powerful demotivator from continued engagement, exacerbating member retention issues. At a time when professional associations, research institutions, and government organizations nationwide innovate and experiment with new tools to stimulate public engagement and build trust, the CERB observes that Montgomery County is not integrating them into training and experience sharing opportunities for staff and BCC members.

3) Communication between BCCs, Departments, and the County Council is inconsistent

Some BCCs have established strong mutual connections and coordination on complementary issues (e.g., the Climate, Energy, and Air Quality Advisory Committee and the Racial Equity and Social Justice Advisory Committee). However, this collaboration is not consistent across all BCCs, and even when members of one BCC are supposed to also contribute to others, ineffective. The CERB noted multiple instances of thematic or geographic overlap in issues, where proactive coordination among BCCs would have been beneficial (e.g., infrastructure recommendations from the Pedestrian, Bicycle, and Traffic Safety Advisory Committee could be coordinated with the Commission on People with Disabilities).

Example of Excellence: Victim Services Advisory Board This board enjoys strong and productive relationships with County Departments, County Councilmembers, other BCCs, community organizations and beyond. The board regularly liaises with DHHS's Trauma Services Division; takes part in Policy Department's focus group meetings; attends meetings of the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission; meets with elected County and State officials; and provides testimony in County and State legislative hearings.

Sec. 2-147 of the Montgomery County Code requires all BCCs to submit annual reports to the County Executive and County Council, however, their submission is not tracked and appears inconsistent. It is unclear how the County Council engages with the BCC reports that do get submitted and if they are truly necessary. Some BCCs enjoy regular participation from Councilmembers or their staff. Yet several boards have noted that they have struggled to gain attention from Councilmembers on important issues despite repeated invitations or other communication (e.g., Dickerson Area Facilities Implementation Group). It is unclear how the Council decides which BCC meetings to attend and which issues and recommendations to engage on. The lack of formal feedback loops between BCCs, Departments, and Council raises further questions about the role of advisory BCCs in the County's governance.

4) Minimal use of data and evidence limits ability to produce meaningful recommendations

Most BCCs do not possess the required expertise or staff support to use data available through the County to inform their discussions and formulate data-driven recommendations. In several instances, BCCs noted a lack of access to Department-specific data, but it was unclear whether the necessary data was not collected, not shared, or whether the BCC did not feel empowered to even request it.

Membership and Participation

The significant issue of BCC membership and participation is critical to the success of the BCC process. There is universal agreement that Montgomery County has a wealth of talent from its residents' professional and lived experiences and many of these individuals are very willing to serve the County in the voluntary capacity of a BCC. There are, however, many additional county residents who may also be willing to participate in local government service, but they are likely unaware of the BCC process.

1) Overly large BCCs struggle with chronic vacancies and low attendance

The CERB commends the efforts of the County Executive's office to more aggressively advertise BCC vacancies through County mailing lists, announcements on the County website, notices in the County Executive’s weekly bulletin, and the regular updates from County Councilmembers to their constituents. Yet, based on direct observation, interviews with Department heads and BCCs’ self-assessment questionnaires, the CERB noted that recruitment and attendance challenges are persistent in the BCC system.

Keeping up with recruitment is a daunting task in a system with over 1300 total positions and over 180 vacancies. The CERB observed that many County BCCs have unnecessarily large membership numbers mandated by law, some of them exceeding 25 (e.g., Commission on Children and Youth, Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission, Human Trafficking Prevention Committee, Commission on Juvenile Justice). In some cases, only the minimum number of members is specified (Commission on Aging). These membership requirements are inconsistent with the evidence that suggests boards larger than 20 persons are difficult to facilitate.³

Example of Excellence: Agricultural Preservation Advisory Board This board consists of five members—three farmers and two non-farmers. It is a small, but very hard-working board. Their monthly meetings last two hours with productive and well-informed discussion among the members, involving analysis of legislation and dealing with “real community issues” with many county citizens attending and making presentations.

2) Legally mandated membership composition creates structural imbalance

Because the work of the BCCs is varied, some BCCs benefit more from subject matter expertise on the board while others find a broader resident representation with diverse backgrounds to be more beneficial. Some BCCs’ composition is stipulated by the governing laws too prescriptively, for example, by mentioning specific professions or even named organizations. In addition to unwieldy size, this can result in non-representative boards. The CERB noted that the requirement of specific professional expertise on some BCCs created tension with the County’s stated goals of diversity and inclusion. It results in hard-to-fill vacancies or discussions that either skew towards technical detail with little consideration of affected stakeholder experience, or, conversely, are driven by emotional contributions from residents who lack professional background to produce specific recommendations. The governing laws are inconsistent in the language stipulating member composition, and, when aiming to achieve diversity, do not specify the order of priorities in the selection criteria.

The CERB observed that overall, BCCs continue to lack diversity in membership, with youth and ethnic communities under-represented; women and older individuals continue to make up the majority of BCC members.⁴ Geographic representation overall is consistent with findings of the Office of Legislative Oversight report 2014-7, “Contractor Report on Composition of Montgomery county Boards, Commissions, and Committees.” The CERB noted strong participation of residents and businesses from Bethesda, Silver Spring, Rockville and Potomac on both county-wide and geographically focused boards, while membership (as a percentage of population), is lower in Upcounty and East County zip codes.

⁴ This finding is consistent with the 2024 OLO Report.

3) Barriers to member participation persist

Since the advent of Covid-19, with government and business implementing virtual and hybrid work options, BCCs have adopted options for remote participation by providing videoconferencing links to the public. This step has made it possible for county residents to join meetings, helping to address transportation as one of the barriers to participation. However, in hybrid instances, the CERB observed the video connection was not always high quality, limiting the ability of attendees to view or hear the proceedings of a meeting. Some BCCs have implemented in-person only meetings as well, meeting either in a set location or around the County.

Example of Excellence: Montgomery Sports Advisory Committee (MCSPAC) and East County Citizens Advisory Board (ECCAB) With transportation sometimes an issue, these BCCs take into account the geographic diversity of their membership and their scopes of work. MCSAC holds its meetings in-person each month in a different County Recreation Center location. Similarly, ECCAB alternates its meetings between the RSC and various community locations. This enables greater attendance of both the BCC members and other county residents, allowing them to engage in discussions involving programs for their geographic area.

The County does offer a reimbursement for BCC members to cover transportation and dependent care for regularly scheduled BCC and subcommittee meetings to enable county residents to volunteer. However, CERB members noted that, at $30 per meeting, the dependent care reimbursement does not match market rates and thus likely is not an effective incentive.

Advisory BCCs do not provide stipends or other remunerative incentives to its members, despite often extremely demanding scopes of work, such as the production of an annual report. The Racial Equity and Social Justice Advisory Committee is a notable exception; however, it was not immediately clear to the CERB what set it apart, considering it has membership requirements similar to many other BCCs in the County.

Public Engagement and Visibility

1) Outdated websites with inconsistent information

Before attending each BCC's meetings, CERB members tried to find as much information about their work ahead of time, with the objective of understanding how easy it is for an ordinary resident to find information about BCCs and figure out which one would be relevant to their issue. The CERB's experience was generally straightforward, but the members noted that it takes multiple steps on the County's website to figure out where the information is. Moreover, many BCCs have duplicate websites with conflicting information, and it is not clear which one is primary; older websites also show up higher in search engine results, exacerbating user confusion. Some BCC websites are not updated, with agendas, minutes, and meeting information missing. In several instances, multiple videoconferencing links were provided on different pages, further complicating the user experience. These systemic obstacles cause frustration and discourage participation from the public.

Example of Excellence: Advisory Committee on Consumer Protection The website of this committee is well organized and navigable, with highlights from its past activities and links to most recent annual reports. However, it could be further strengthened with announcements and links to information about in-person and virtual educational training programs held in libraries and senior centers across the county, which bring the committee's activities close to residents who may be particularly vulnerable to scams. It could also articulate the connection of the committee to the Montgomery County Office of Consumer Protection's (OCA) Podcast, "Consumer Connection" which is available through the OCA website, on YouTube, and on major podcast platforms.

2) Lacking proactive public engagement strategies

Most BCCs identified public outreach and engagement as a continuing challenge in their self-assessment. Often, this limitation was explained by a lack of staff time and training; outreach capacities vary widely across departments. There appears no centralized guidance or involvement from the Public Information Office to assist BCCs. Most BCC meetings that CERB members attended did not include representatives from the public. With the exception of several BCCs whose members set up tables at public events, the CERB did not observe a consistent effort on behalf of the County to deliberately position the BCC system as a desirable and effective way to contribute diverse inputs into County activities and policy. It is not clear to the CERB how residents are supposed to be excited to volunteer on BCCs or participate in meetings if they do not know that BCCs exist and what their value is.

Example of Excellence: Dickerson Area Facilities Implementation Group

(DAFIG) As the work of the Dickerson area solid waste management facilities has a direct and potentially serious impact on the health of nearby communities, DAFIG has established a robust system for notifying residents about incidents and for collecting resident concerns to present to the County. Each member of DAFIG reports back about the work of the Group to their community and solicits feedback. Members of the public know about DAFIG and attend its meetings.

In several personal observations, CERB members noted that they do not receive any information about the work of BCCs that supposedly cover their geographic areas or issues of concern. For example, CERB members noted that they do not receive information about the work of regional citizens advisory boards. With the exception of updates from some Councilmembers and the County Executive's newsletter (for which an individual still needs to subscribe), information about BCC work did not trickle down otherwise. The CERB had no opportunity to conduct a public survey to collect comprehensive data on community perceptions about the BCC system and its value.

Example of Excellence: Commission for Women This Commission hosts the annual Women's Legislative Briefing, demonstrating leadership in bringing together women from throughout the county to learn, advocate and connect around policy priorities shaping their lives and their future. In its 46th year, the Women's Legislative Briefing is the longest-standing women's legislative event in the state of Maryland. Attendees can participate in sessions on issues such as economic justice and equality, human trafficking prevention, reproductive health and rights, and sexual assault and domestic violence prevention, with policy makers, advocates, and emerging leaders. This is a wonderful example of how a BCC is going the "extra mile" to empower, engage and mobilize county residents around issues affecting them.

Impact Evaluation

1) No strategy and evaluation framework for the BCC system

When the CERB members began assessing the scope of their assignment, they noted the absence of an evaluation framework for the BCC system. While the governing laws mention several data points that the CERB should consider, such as “a list of accomplishments,” or “an explanation of government resources... used,” there is no universal approach to regularly monitor the performance and impact of BCCs through data collection and analysis of clearly defined indicators. It was challenging for this CERB to determine up front what data it would need and would have time to analyze. In the absence of a results framework that would be tied to a County-wide strategic plan, decennial evaluations of the BCC system will be biased by the specific CERB members’ experiences and backgrounds, provide only a snapshot in time, and will not allow to effectively track how well the County government adapts the BCC system and its use of resources to the rapidly changing socio-economic profile of the county.

2) Few BCCs have a strategic plan tied to their Departments’ goals

Similarly, when examining individual BCCs, the CERB observed that each board, committee and commission has their own definition of success, which are not consistent across the board or tied to a broader objective shared across the system. Most BCCs also do not have a strategic plan or a component thereof developed jointly with the Department leadership. In the context of vaguely defined or overly ambitious mandates, strategic plans can help narrow down priorities and empower BCC members with a sense of purpose. Without a focused strategy and related performance benchmarks, most BCCs appear to not use data to track their impact, while the corresponding Department heads struggle to clearly articulate the added value of BCCs in their work. What is more concerning, BCCs miss the opportunity to communicate their impact to county residents, further distancing themselves from ordinary people and perpetuating challenges with recruitment.

4. Recommendations

Recommendations for the System as a Whole

1) Streamline governance and clarify oversight roles.

The County Council should:

- Determine which BCCs need to exist in perpetuity, and which ones should be converted to project-specific task forces with clearly defined timelines and engagement tasks.
- Empower the County Executive to create time-bound, project-specific task forces comprised of county residents. Such task forces should be managed at the discretion of the County Executive, not considered part of the BCC system, and sunset when the related project is completed, without the need for additional legislative action.
- Conduct a comprehensive revision of the legislation governing BCCs and amend it to ensure clear communication of purpose, authorities, and membership requirements, using a uniform and consistent language template.
- Frequently and proactively publicize the BCCs to its constituents; review agenda, minutes, and outputs of the BCCs; attend or send representatives to meetings as appropriate; discuss any concerns relevant to the BCC with the BCC chair and/or the overseeing Department.

- Work with the County Executive to clarify and consistently communicate to the BCCs the mechanisms of engagement on their recommendations and reports.

The County Executive should:

- Consistently communicate to all relevant stakeholders that the role of advisory BCCs is to primarily support County functions by advising specific departments. Task the relevant department heads to work with the County Executive and Council to revise membership numbers and criteria, including expertise, geography, and stakeholder distribution, for their assigned BCCs. The establishment and refreshment of membership criteria may require periodic legislative action.
- Enable department head to oversee, manage, support, and facilitate the BCCs under their purview, and to recommend the necessary changes to the BCC's statutory purpose based on the evolving priorities of the department. The department should provide functional expertise, external coordination, and day to day administrative support to the relevant BCCs. The department head should be responsible for ensuring appropriate financial controls over funds associated with the BCC or its functions. All recommendations (especially on budget) should be coordinated through the overseeing department before release. The department should be responsible for ensuring that any required reviews and/or approvals (County, State, National) are obtained.

2) Reduce system complexity and articulate BCC authority.

The County Council and Executive should work collaboratively to:

- Adopt a standardized classification of County's boards, committees, and commissions, such as the one proposed in this report.
- Update and simplify the current regional BCC structure to facilitate a closer connection of government to residents:
 - 1) align the structure and geographic representation of RSCs to the current demographic and economic composition of the County;
 - 2) rename the RSCs to reflect their present-day alignment;
 - 3) group and rename advisory BCCs that serve the same areas as RSC to be consistent with the RSC nomenclature;
 - 4) fold issues specific to a geographic area under the purview of those regional BCCs.
- Ensure that regionally aligned BCCs are empowered and have proper tools to communicate with the relevant County departments, municipalities, urban districts, community associations, businesses, and other stakeholders in their coverage area.
- Establish clear mechanisms for action on recommendations from advisory bodies (e.g., mandatory department review or Council hearing), especially on urgent or long-ignored issues.
- Create clear guardrails for BCC decision-making and procedures for escalating issues raised by residents and closing the feedback loop.

3) Strengthen the capacity of staff and BCC members to work collaboratively and efficiently, and deliver results.

The County Council and Executive should work collaboratively to:

- Increase full-time staffing in the County Executive's Office to support the BCCs as a system. Designate a dedicated, manager-level staff member empowered to lead centralized management, oversight, coordination, training, and performance evaluation of the BCC system, as well as provide and procedural support to Department liaisons.
- This centralized unit should provide guidance on strategic planning, alignment with County and Department goals, performance and impact assessments, and addressing management challenges. The information management should include guidance on and management of agenda, minutes, documents, website content, external communications, and annual reports across the BCC system. The central staff should continue member recruitment, vetting, training, and on-going support, and also incorporate succession planning into their services to ensure continuity and reduce friction between new BCC leadership and Department heads during transition.
- Establish a County Board Academy that provides mandatory, comprehensive, recurring training to all BCC members and staff about the County government, decision-making processes and authorities, the role of BCCs and their impact, and coordination with other civic bodies. Ideally, the Academy should be open to all county residents interested in this form of participation. The Academy should fully prepare county residents to serve on BCCs and go beyond the procedural training and support on the Maryland Open Meetings Act, County Ethics Law, Robert's Rules of Order, and the appropriate use of information management tools.
- Review BCC staff support levels at individual Departments and increase support where necessary consistently across all BCCs.
- Provide Department heads and staff liaisons with rigorous and continuing training on BCC management for impact, including on strategic planning, collective innovation, and civic engagement techniques.
- Ensure consistent sharing of relevant County-owned data with BCCs proactively and upon request.

4) Engage energized, motivated, and informed members, ensure their voices are heard, and reward their participation.

The County Council and Executive should work collaboratively to:

- Seek to reduce and standardize the number of BCC members to 10-15 per advisory body to ensure everyone's voice is heard and members feel encouraged, appreciated, and responsible for contributing to their group. Reduce the number of nonvoting members to the absolute minimum necessary to support a balanced and well-informed discussion.
- Qualitatively refocus recruitment efforts by establishing consistent communication with existing talent pools of active county residents, through civic associations, neighborhood alliances, PTAs, houses of worship, social service organizations, trusted community leaders and grassroots activism groups, Montgomery College, Universities at Shady Grove, popular local media, and various community chats on social media.
- Whenever a combination of specific socio-demographic characteristics and professional expertise or lived experiences is required by BCC membership criteria, conduct targeted recruitment with the help of community organizations and/or business allies. For BCCs in which businesses are represented, seek worker representation (e.g., union member participation) when possible.

- For BCCs that continuously experience difficulty recruiting the right combination of lived experience and professional expertise as required, consider decoupling members' required attributes from the issues they are supposed to advise on.
- Streamline the recruitment process by:
 - creating a single BCC application in which individuals could identify multiple advisory bodies of interests
 - reviewing applications on a rolling basis instead of group-specific deadlines
 - advertising the BCC application through existing County job recruitment platforms, such as Work4MCG, GovernmentJobs, and LinkedIn;
 - ensuring Councilmembers consistently publicize the BCC application through their constituent communication channels.
- Increase and periodically revise dependent care reimbursement rates for BCC members to meet market rates.
- Establish a robust system of incentives for participation in BCCs, focused on removing barriers for young adults and working parents and rewarding dedication. These may include:
 - monetary stipends for labor-intensive BCCs, e.g. ones that produce mandatory deliverables to the County Executive, County Council or Departments;
 - Student Service Learning (SSL) hours for high school students;
 - internship credit for college students or recent graduates;
 - discounts or free vouchers for County's Recreation Department activities and camps;
 - gift cards to local retail businesses.
- Annually poll BCC members about their experiences serving on boards, committees, and commissions. Leverage positive testimonials in recruitment and communication campaigns. Assess negative feedback and develop evidence-based corrective action, making sure to provide feedback to individual residents.
- Consider replacing the word "citizen" in the names of "citizen advisory boards" to "resident" or "civic," in order to reduce polarization in the public discourse and signal that the BCC experience is open to people of all backgrounds.

5) Ensure residents know about BCCs and their role in supporting County services and channeling public input.

The County Council and Executive should work collaboratively to:

- Consistently communicate to county residents how the BCCs fit into the broad structure of public engagement opportunities. This information could be included into County emails, direct mail, press releases, traditional and social media outreach, RideOn buses, public events, posters in County buildings, and other means. Ensure the outreach methods effectively reflect the County's changing demographics and information channel preferences.

- Conduct innovative awareness campaigns, in collaboration with local businesses and community groups, to more effectively reach underrepresented communities, highlighting the importance of civic participation and how one can serve their peers by being a BCC member.
- Dedicate Public Information Office (PIO) or County Executive Office resources to support BCC-specific outreach, including information campaigns, event advertising, participation opportunities, or celebration of BCC impact and achievements.
- Advertise the established mechanisms to share BCC updates with the public, delivering them to residents' inboxes; this can be as simple as upcoming meeting reminders and minutes of past meetings, or the more involved "key priorities" updates via email. Create an option for the public to sign up for specific BCC updates through eSubscription.
- Create a one-stop method for residents to channel their issues to a relevant BCC. Consider using an AI-powered chatbot, or form, as well as 311 integration, to help residents quickly figure out which BCC they should be engaging with based on their issue or interest.
- Share examples of excellence in public engagement and outreach through training and best practice exchange opportunities among BCCs; the proposed County Board Academy can be an outstanding platform for this type of learning.
- Conduct a comprehensive audit of BCC websites to remove duplicate pages, streamline navigation, and reduce the time it takes for an individual to find information they need. Focus website navigation on user experience. Ensure that all BCC websites are structured consistently and clearly show the dates, times and locations for upcoming meetings, modality (online or in-person), the meeting agenda, and a list of the current board members. Virtual meeting links should be always updated. Each BCC page should include a description of what the group does and past meeting agendas and meeting minutes, as well as annual reports.

6) Evaluate BCCs together with Departments as a standard and intentional practice.

The County Council and Executive should work collaboratively to:

- Implement a monitoring and evaluation framework for the BCC system tied to the County's Strategic Plan to ensure comparable results and progress tracking over time.
- Establish a standardized process for strategic planning and goal alignment between County Departments and their individual BCCs.
- Instead of a CERB review every 6 years as currently prescribed, consider implementing a system of continuous improvement with clear results and performance targets, informed by consistent data gathering and facilitated by central staff in the County Executive's Office.
- For a robust recurring assessment of the BCC system as a whole, consider procuring a professional evaluation.
- Conduct periodic surveys or focus groups among the public whose input is supposed to be channeled by specific BCCs, including individuals who attend BCC meetings, to gauge their experience and feedback on the work of the BCCs.

Recommendations for Individual BCCs

After a multifaceted review of each individual advisory BCC, the CERB organized its recommendations according to the following rubric:

- 1) Continue – No Change. BCCs function well and according to their purpose, with meaningful community participation. The CERB proposes no changes to their scope or functions.
- 2) Continue – Recategorize to Another Tier. After a careful review, the CERB determined that these BCCs are not advisory in nature and therefore should be recategorized under other Tiers (Coordinating Group, Regulatory Body, County Agency, or External). Since this CERB focused its review on advisory BCCs, no further recommendations are made.
- 3) Continue – Modify. These BCCs should continue but with specific modifications to their scope, structure, or function that could improve their performance and engagement with the community.
- 4) Continue – Absorb Another BCC. These BCCs have considerable overlap with other BCCs but are better functioning or broader in scope and could subsume the scope or functions of duplicative boards, committees, or commissions.
- 5) Eliminate by Absorbing into Another BCC. These BCCs overlap in scope or function with larger, better functioning BCCs, and are largely redundant, and therefore should be absorbed into another BCC.
- 6) Eliminate Outright. The CERB finds that these BCCs are either obsolete or have a history of consistently failing to perform its functions and therefore should be abolished entirely.

Out of 54 BCCs reviewed, the CERB recommends that 13 BCCs continue without any changes; 24 continue with some changes; and 11 be eliminated. Six bodies initially considered advisory were determined by the CERB otherwise and recommended for reclassification to other Tiers.

The summary of determinations is presented below. The overview of each BCC, the CERB's most notable findings, and specific recommendations are provided in Appendix B.

5. Suggested Additional Research

In the course of its work, CERB members encountered serious limitations to their ability to holistically review the BCC system, because it was missing a range of qualitative data from the members of BCCs and the general public. In order to develop tailored, actionable recommendations for improving the BCC system, the CERB suggests that the County:

- Conduct additional research among county residents to better understand cultural, psychological, and systemic barriers to their participation in BCCs and other public engagement opportunities beyond the well-known factors of time, transportation, and dependent care needs.
- Regularly gauge the perceptions of county residents about their role in County governance, the effectiveness of County's public engagement opportunities, the visibility of BCCs, and the residents' understanding of their purpose.
- Carry out a comprehensive evaluation of the County's entire portfolio of public engagement opportunities, tools, and methods, alongside its public communication practices, to better understand where the BCC system fits and what specific value it brings to residents and to the County government.
- Consistently explore and implement innovative practices and evidence-based recommendations from professional associations, trailblazing local governments, universities, philanthropies, and research institutions that focus on strengthening public engagement, including through innovation around formal methods like boards and commissions.

Membership: No less than 18. Members must be county residents; a majority shall be senior citizens. Membership shall include individuals who are or who have been active in business, industry, labor, community service, religion, welfare, and/or education, the professions and representatives of major organizations or agencies significantly concerned with the problems of aging.

Meetings: Fourth Thursday of each month.

Staff: Peter Illig, Community Outreach Manager
Area Agency on Aging, DHHS/Aging
& Disability Services 401 Hungerford
Drive; 4th Floor 240-777-1354

2013 Comment:	The commission can increase its effectiveness by adding permanent representatives from the Mental Health Advisory Committee and the Commission on Veterans Affairs. The interaction between these three groups could be very helpful. What is age for “senior citizens”? 60? 65? Membership is listed as “No less than 18”. What is the maximum? 19? 25?
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this BCC continue, but with modifications to its membership. CERB strongly suggests that a representative be added from the Mental Health Advisory Committee and the Commission on Veterans Affairs.
2025 Comment:	The Commission is highly active and effective, with multiple subcommittees and a strong chair. Members noted that it is “tackling real problems” and that its meetings are well-attended and productive. While some concerns were raised about the large size of the board and the number of priorities, the overall consensus was that the Commission is functioning well and should not be disrupted.

AGRICULTURAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Created:	MD. Agriculture Code § 2-504 (2023) of the Maryland Annotated Code 1977 and Sec. 2B-2 (b) of the Montgomery County Code, as amended (1988).
Purpose:	To advise the County Executive and County Council with respect to the establishment of agricultural districts and the approval of purchases of easements; to review the status of agricultural districts and land under easement; to promote preservation of agriculture.
Membership:	Five members at least three of whom shall be owner/operators of commercial farms who earn 50 percent or more of their income from farming. All must be county residents. No member may serve for more than two consecutive full terms.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Lobbying:	Must not engage in any advocacy activity at the State or federal levels unless that activity is approved by the Office of Intergovernmental Relations.
Terms:	Five-year terms no compensation.
Meetings:	First Tuesday of each month.
Staff:	Mike Weyand, Program Administrator, Agricultural Land Preservation, Office of Agricultural Services 301-590-2856

2013 Comment:	There was consideration that there might be enough overlap to warrant a merger with the Agricultural Advisory Committee. After a great deal of discussion it became evident that this should not happen. Evidence shows that the two groups have different, but complementary functions.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee is more community-based and includes stakeholders such as the Revenue Authority, Manna, and the County Fair. It was noted that non-farmer members only serve one-year terms, which may limit continuity. The Committee is active and well-run, with a strong focus on community engagement.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue. The CERB further recommends that non-farmer members should serve longer than one year, and the Committee should keep the community informed of activities in the Agricultural Reserve.

AGRICULTURAL PRESERVATION ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	MD. Agriculture Code § 2-504 (2023) of the Maryland Annotated Code 1977 and Sec. 2B-2 (b) of the Montgomery County Code, as amended (1988).
Purpose:	To advise the County Executive and County Council with respect to the establishment of agricultural districts and the approval of purchases of easements; to review the status of agricultural districts and land under easement; to promote preservation of agriculture.

Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Lobbying:	Must not engage in any advocacy activity at the State or federal levels unless that activity is approved by the Office of Intergovernmental Relations.
Terms:	Five-year terms no compensation.
Meetings:	First Tuesday of each month.
Staff:	Mike Weyand, Program Administrator, Agricultural Land Preservation, Office of Agricultural Services 301-590-2856

2013 Comment:	There was consideration that there might be enough overlap to warrant a merger with the Agricultural Advisory Committee. After a great deal of discussion it became evident that this should not happen. Evidence shows that the two groups have different, but complementary functions.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This Board was described as more business-focused, with members from the Farm Bureau and agricultural producers. It plays a key role in advising on easements and land preservation. CERB members agreed it should remain separate from the Agricultural Advisory Committee due to its distinct mission and legal foundation under state law.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.

Staffing. The County Executive must designate a principal office or department identified under Section 1A-201(a)(1) to provide the staff support necessary for the Committee to perform its duties.

2013 Comment:	There are 18 positions for this committee – this appears excessive since the Committee meets only on an infrequent basis. While all listed groups have an interest, not all necessarily need to be formal members. For example, the Planning Board should be kept informed, but does not really need to have membership. The Executive Branch and Council could

	be retained as Ex officio members. In this manner they can be kept informed and shown as having an official interest in the committee's activities. This BCC is an example of one that should have sunset on a given date, and no timely action occurred. An extension was eventually passed on 7/17/12.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee is active and community-focused, with discussions centered on noise and flight paths affecting Montgomery Village and surrounding areas. It was noted that the Committee could benefit from broader community representation.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Expand the range of communities represented

ANIMAL SERVICES ADVISORY COMMITTEE
(NEW MARCH 2022)

Staff: Caroline Hairfield, Director
Phone: 240-773-5929.
Patricia Ranshaw, Phone: 240-773-5931

Staffing: The Director of the Office must provide appropriate staff to the Committee.

2013 Comment:	Newly established board; not under 2013 CERB review.
2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment	The Committee is relatively new and its membership is observed to be passionate about animal welfare. The committee appears to be primarily responsible for assisting the Office of Animal Services (OAS) in overseeing and coordinating the efforts of multiple non-governmental organizations (NGOs) whose purpose is the rescue, rehabilitation, fostering, and placement of animals (pet, feral, wild) but not livestock or laboratory research animals. The naming of specific organizations for a long-term advisory body would appear to be a simplistic placeholder for specifying and managing representation from the various categories of animal welfare support organizations, which raises concerns of conflict of interest. Furthermore, the number of public members does not provide sufficient voice for members of the public who are not directly engaged in various aspects of animal welfare.
2025 Recommendation	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Align issues of focus with the stated purposes of the Committee• Specify membership in terms of activities not organizations• The Office of Animal Services should establish a mechanism for maintaining a list of active animal welfare organizations with their potential role in support of Montgomery County goals• Expand membership to more representatives of the public

CHARTER REVIEW COMMISSION

Created:	Charter of Montgomery County. Maryland Section 509

Commission reports shall be submitted not later than May 1 of every even-numbered year. The reports shall contain recommendations concerning proposed Charter amendments, if any.
Membership:	Eleven members who shall be residents of the County, five of whom shall be appointed from a list of names submitted by the County Executive. Not more than six members shall be of the same political party.
Meetings:	Second Wednesday of each month, 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m. at the Council Office Building, 100 Maryland Avenue, Rockville.
Terms:	Four year terms to coincide with the Council term of office. No compensation.
Staff:	Christine Wellons, County Council 100 Maryland Ave, 5th Floor Rockville, MD 20850 Phone: 240-777-7892

2013 Comment:	None.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Charter Review Commission is currently classified as a Tier 1 advisory board. However, CERB members agreed that it falls outside the scope of CERB's review, due to its authority to study the County Charter and make recommendations to the County Council to amend the Charter.

COMMISSION ON CHILD CARE

Created: Montgomery County Code Section 10A-4 (previously Section 27-62).
Amended 7/20/16, Bill 4-16. Non-voting ex officio CUPF member added. MML member eliminated.

Purpose: Advise the County Executive and County Council on policies, programs and services that enhance community support for high quality, affordable and accessible child care. The Commission must issue an annual report that addresses child care needs and recommends priorities to improve services in support of child care.

Membership: 17 voting members and 6 to 8 non-voting members. (A) Seven members are providers of child care services. The Executive should appoint providers of different types of child care services and providers to different age groups.

These include family child care providers, group child care providers, private educational institutions, and providers serving infants, toddlers, pre-school and school-age children, and children with special needs. (B) Five members are parents of children receiving child care services. (C) Five members are selected from the business community and the general public.

The Superintendent of Schools, the Chairman of the Montgomery County Planning Board, the President of Montgomery College, or their designees, are nonvoting members of the Commission. Two designees of the Director of the Department of Health and Human Services, and one designee of the Director of the Community Use of Public Facilities are also nonvoting members of the Commission. In addition, upon recommendation of the Commission, the Executive may designate representatives of up to 2 public agencies to serve as nonvoting members. The Executive may appoint these additional members to serve less than 3-year terms.

Each member must reside or work in Montgomery County.

Financial

Disclosure: Not required.

Terms: Three-year terms - no compensation.

Meetings: Third Wednesday of each month, 7:30 PM

Staff: Erin Stillwell, DHHS, 7300 Calhoun Place, Suite 700
Rockville, MD 20855
(240) 777-1716

2013 Comment:	The position allocated to the Maryland Municipal League (MML) has been filled only once in the past 15 years and has recently been filled, having been vacant since 2007. The League's mission is not consistent with that of the Commission, which may explain why the MML is not
---------------	--

COMMISSION ON CHILD CARE

	working with the Commission. CERB could not find a rationale for including a member from MML. The non-voting membership list is very confusing. As underlined above, the Executive may add 2 non-voting representatives if the Commission asks. Has this ever occurred? What is the rationale for this requirement? There also should be a description of what is meant by selecting two members from “public agencies” – agencies involved with child care?
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with changes to its membership. The position reserved for the Maryland Municipal League should be removed, and a clarification/review of the non-voting member selection process should be done.
2025 Comment:	This committee stands out for its specific focus on child care and its members are directly involved in the child care system, ensuring priorities are grounded in real experiences. The CERB observed that the number of members present at meetings was consistently low, undermining the quorum. CERB members also noted that MCPS has not participated in this Commission's work for years despite having a designated seat. The CERB also raised questions about the apparent duplication of this Commission's scope with the other bodies created by county law, such as the Early Care and Education Coordinating Entity and the Early Childhood Coordinating Council.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reduce membership size so that quorum can be reached • Conduct a thorough review of the scopes of the various childcare-related entities and bodies created by county law and ensure their better delineation and coordination • Expand priorities to include issues related to licensing and economic support to childcare centers/providers and their employees

COMMISSION ON CHILDREN AND YOUTH

Created:	Montgomery County Code Section 27-48
Purpose:	To advise the County Executive and County Council, the Department of Health and Human Services and the Board of Education on the development of coordinated community and government policies, programs and services which support children, youth and families.
Membership:	27 members including one representative from the public school system; one representative from the private schools in the County; one representative from the Department of Recreation; and two representatives from the Department of Health and Human Services. The remaining 22 members should be divided as equally as possible among individuals with recent experience in agencies providing services to children and youth; youth and young adults; and parents. The Chair and Vice Chair shall be appointed by the County Executive and confirmed by the County Council (The Commission may make recommendations to the CE)
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	3 year terms for parents and agency representatives; one year terms for youth, (June 1 – May 31). There is no compensation.
Meetings:	2 nd Wednesday of each month.
Staff:	Jameela Hyland, DHHS, 7300 Calhoun Place, Suite 700 Rockville, MD 20855 (240) 301-461-443-

2013 Comment:	“Parents of youths, and high school students” – need definition of “youths”. Are advocates of children in the elementary and middle schools included? An in-depth discussion on the possibility of a merger with the Commission on Child Care resulted in the conclusion that the functions of the two groups, while similar, are different enough that each should remain independent. Also, with a combined membership of 49, all of whom are active and involved, would create a very large and unwieldy group. After attending meetings of the Commission, it was quite obvious that there is a high level of interest in participation on this commission as evidenced by the number of youth, parents, and educators in attendance.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This committee is more focused on youth/young adults as opposed to young children. This is reflected in its successful outreach of such events as a youth "have a voice townhall," and youth led policy recommendations. Conversely, the website should reflect its outreach to youth and be updated in a timely manner. Also, the Commission has faced challenges in obtaining critical data from MCPS and in the advertising of its events due to legal restriction.

2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Review MCPS partnership and update priorities accordingly• Consider changing the name to "Commission on Children, Youth, Young Adults, and Families" to better reflect its scope

CLIMATE, ENERGY AND AIR QUALITY ADVISORY

Created:	Montgomery County Code Sec. 18-A-5, as amended 1995. Amended by Bill 26-20 changing name and purpose.
Purpose:	To advise the County Executive and the County Council on the development, promotion and implementation of programs to heighten energy awareness, increase energy efficiency and improve indoor and outdoor air quality
Membership:	Fifteen members. Chair is designated by the County Executive and confirmed by the County Council. Members must be citizens of the County who are technically knowledgeable and interested in energy and air quality.

Meetings:	First Wednesday evening of each month.
Staff:	Lindsey Shaw, Dept. of Environmental Protection, 255 Rockville Pike, 240-777-7754

2013 Comment:	Each member of the Committee has informally agreed to forgo any requests for reimbursements for expenses in order to save County resources.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee was described as well-run and responsive to emergent issues within its stated scope.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.

Staff: Beth Gocrach, Office of the County Executive
101 Monroe Street, 2nd Floor Rockville, MD 20850

2013 Comment:	CERB believes it would be better and more efficient to review the BCC system more frequently than every 10 years.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee should convene every five to six years. Note: CERB also recommends that CERB members not be allowed to serve concurrently on another County BCC while a member of the CERB.
2025 Comment:	CERB is a mandated oversight body tasked with reviewing the structure, function, and effectiveness of all BCCs. Members expressed concern about the infrequency of reviews and suggested that future CERBs be convened more regularly to ensure timely oversight and have more time allotted for the task.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information and hands-on experience, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its functions. The CERB further recommends that: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• The scope of the review be clarified to include only true advisory BCCs• Future reviews occur more frequently than every 10 years• More time be allocated to conduct the review• Address member retention issues

2013 Comment:	None.

COMMUNITY REINVESTMENT AND REPAIR FUND COMMISSION
(newly established October 2024)

Created:	Established by County Council Bill 4-24 effective October 24, 2024 Montgomery County Code Article XI. Montgomery County Community Reinvestment And Repair Fund Commission.

2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This Committee was described as a model for how advisory bodies can use data to inform their work and demonstrate impact. It uses complaint data by ZIP code to identify trends and target outreach, and supports public education campaigns and podcasting. The Office of Consumer Protection considers the Committee its “eyes and ears,” and CERB members praised its strong alignment with its mission.

COUNTY-WIDE RECREATION AND PARKS ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	Montgomery County Code – Section 41-21 thru 30. Exec. Order 239-01 expands the Recreation District to five areas to coincide with the Regional Service Centers. Bill No. 32-01 changes the composition and duties of the County-wide and regional recreation advisory boards. Bill 4-16 (eff. 7/20/16), adds “Parks” to name of board, eliminates regional area boards and changes public membership.
Purpose:	Advisory to the County Executive, the County Council, the Director of the Department of Recreation, and the Planning Board. The Board shall encourage the development of desirable recreational and park opportunities in the County.
Membership:	25 total members. 18 voting members, including 3 representatives of each of the four regional recreation areas and 6 from the County at-large. 7 non-voting ex-officio members, including a representative of the Dept. of Parks of the M-NCPPC, an administrative representative of the Board of Education, and representatives from the Office of Community Use of Public Facilities, Community Action Board, Commission on Aging, Commission on People with Disabilities, and the immediate past Board Chair (unless serving on the Board in another capacity).

Terms:	Three year terms – no compensation.
Meetings:	2nd Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m., (no mtgs in July and August) EOB – 9 th Floor Conf Room
Staff:	Jason Fasteau, Dept. of Recreation, 240-777-4934, 2425 Reedie Drive, 10th Floor, Wheaton, MD 20902

2013 Comment:	There has been much discussion suggesting that this Board be reorganized and renamed. In effect, the four regional Boards would be incorporated into the main Board. A memorandum, dated May 8, 2012, was submitted by the Board, which outlined their support of this concept. With the addition of regional representatives to the main Board, a greater degree of efficiency and coordination can be achieved. The current Boards have been almost operating this way for a while. The number of members from each area should be great enough to ensure representation at most meetings.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, and in response to a memorandum submitted by this Board, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with modifications to membership and name. 1) Membership should include three representatives from each of the regional recreation areas, six members appointed from the County at large, and seven non-voting ex officio members, including a representative from the Dept. of Park and Planning. 2) The Board should be renamed the “Recreation and Parks Advisory Board”.

COUNTY-WIDE RECREATION AND PARKS ADVISORY BOARD

2025 Comment:	The County-Wide Recreation and Parks Advisory Board plays an important role in advising on recreational and park services across Montgomery County. The Board is active and engaged, and its members demonstrate a strong commitment to improving access to recreation for all residents. However, during our review, we noted that the Board could benefit from clearer definitions of success and more structured outreach to underrepresented communities. There is also an opportunity to better coordinate with other recreation-related advisory bodies to avoid duplication and strengthen impact.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, we recommend that this Board continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Define success metrics beyond meeting participation• Expand outreach efforts to ensure broader representation across the County's diverse populations

2013 Comment:	CERB received a suggestion from a Commission staff member that the Commission should have a member from the Commission on Veterans

CRIMINAL JUSTICE COORDINATING COMMISSION

	Affairs. After discussion, CERB decided to not support the idea since the Commission is already so large as to be almost unwieldy. The addition of any other members should only be considered if there were reductions in the current membership. CERB members observed the Commission in operation, and found it well organized and very efficient. Considering there are 32 members, including a police chief, judges, attorneys and other public officials, the leadership and staff should be commended.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment	The Commission was described as well-organized and informative, with participation from law enforcement and judiciary representatives. However, its work overlaps with other justice-related boards.
2025 Recommendation	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Absorb the Commission on Juvenile Justice• Absorb the Domestic Violence Coordinating Council• Absorb the Human Trafficking Prevention Committee

Staff: David Rosenbaum, Program Manager
Recycling and Resource Management Division, DEP
101 Monroe Street, Rockville, Maryland 20850
Phone: 240-777-6571 3

2013 Comment:	While covering only a few specific areas of interest, the Group is key to ensuring that the Dickerson area environmental issues are monitored by those directly affected. Since the efforts are well underway, and the only real need is to monitor, analyze and provide any suggestions for change. It is the CERB's recommendation that the name of this group be changed. Perhaps replace the word "Implementation" with "Study." This issue is not included in the recommendation, but might be worthy of discussion.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Group continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This is a highly focused advisory body with very active representation from communities affected by solid waste and energy projects in the

DICKERSON AREA FACILITIES IMPLEMENTATION GROUP

	Dickerson area. Despite limited technical expertise among members, the Group has been resourceful in soliciting information from guest speakers and has a well-established, community-driven outreach system to notify area residents of adverse incidents. The Group serves a critical function in providing a reality check on the progress around the Dickerson area solid waste management plan. The CERB noted that the Group acts as an important voice for the local residents against a concerning pattern of disregard of community input and the impact of the solid waste operations in the Dickerson area.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information and hands-on experience, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with the following changes: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Elevate the role of this Group and overtly endow it with accountability authority by renaming it “Dickerson Area Facilities Civic Oversight Committee”• Consider tasking the Group with submitting an annual “critical issues” report (such as review of resident notification mechanisms) to the Council to provide a transparent way for area residents to elevate their concerns

Officers: Chair and Vice Chair for elected for two-year terms.

Meetings: Must meet at least 4 times per year, but generally meets five to six times per year the second Thursday of every other month at 5:30 p.m. in the Family Justice Center building, 600 Jefferson Plaza in Rockville.

(240) 773-0446

2013 Comment:	As written, eleven of the members are Ex-Officio, and only 6 are “regular”; that is a distribution that cannot be accurate? The DVCC stated in its survey that its ongoing challenge is making the community aware of its services. They need to determine and establish the best medium or method to “get the word out” about what the DVCC does.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Council continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment	The Council’s work overlaps with the Commission on Juvenile Justice and the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission.
2025 Recommendation	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Council be eliminated and absorbed into the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission.

EAST COUNTY CITIZENS ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	Resolution 12-1032 (created 1993)
Purpose:	To advise the County Executive and the County Council of East County citizens' issues and concerns; advocate for regional priorities; and help facilitate solutions. The board serves as a liaison between the Eastern County community, and the County Executive, County Council, and County government departments by identifying community concerns and recommending possible solutions. It also advises the Director of the Eastern Montgomery Regional Services Center on transportation, economic development, housing, education, human services, environment, recreation, public safety, and other issues of importance to the area. The group reviews and comments on the County's capital and operating budgets and master plans; assists with strategies to tailor services to regional needs; and conducts workshops and forums, as well as acts on other ad hoc issues.
Membership:	Eighteen members, including one position reserved for a business representative. The membership represents a cross-section of citizens living or working in the Eastern region, including communities in the Fairland, White Oak and Cloverly vicinities. The area is roughly bound on the west by the Northwest Branch, on the north by Ednor Road, on the east by the Howard County and Prince George's County lines, and on the south by I-495.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three-year terms. No compensation.

Staff:	Jewru Bandeh, Regional Director Montgomery County Government - East County 3300 Briggs Chaney Road, Silver Spring, MD 20904 Phone: (240) 777-8414

2013 Comment:	One serious problem impacts this Board's operation: the limited staff support available. There is only one staff person at the regional center, and the required support level is difficult to provide. The Citizens Advisory Board is the first line of interaction between the citizens and the County government. CERB suggests that the Board (as one of four regional Boards) continue, but with increased staff support to maintain effectiveness. The Centers have been cut one time too many. It is incomprehensible that such important entities continue without even basic staff support.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB strongly suggests that all five regional boards be supported by increased staff at the Regional Centers.

2025 Comment:	The Board is very well-run, with strong community representation and engagement. It holds annual planning retreats and has been successful in advocating for community projects. CERB members recommended increasing staff support and offering online meetings to accommodate older residents.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Review community representation based on an updated analysis of the socio-economic composition of the County and the involved stakeholders • Increase staff support and expand virtual meeting options

2013 Comment:	The Commission operates in an efficient and productive manner.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	CERB members acknowledged that the County has a relatively new Fire Chief and that the Commission has raised the need to review its objectives and role vis-a-vis MCFR. The CERB raised concern about the lack of substantive issues or discussions during the Commission's meetings and the absence of evident community

FRIENDSHIP HEIGHTS TRANSPORTATION MANAGEMENT DISTRICT
ADVISORY COMMITTEE

2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	CERB found that the Friendship Heights TMD Advisory Committee functions primarily as an internal advisory group, with limited engagement from the public. Much of the committee's activity appears to be driven by the Department of Transportation (DOT), and its role is largely informational rather than participatory. CERB noted that the committee's structure results in repetitive communication across multiple TMD advisory bodies, and that citizen involvement is minimal. DOT staff often bear the burden of explaining the same material to different groups, which reduces efficiency and limits strategic coordination.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, CERB recommends that the Friendship Heights Transportation Management District Advisory Committee be eliminated and absorbed by the Friendship Heights Urban District Advisory Committee.

2013 Comment:	Newly established board.
2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment:	The Committee is relatively new and still defining its role. CERB members expressed concern about its structure and oversight, particularly in relation to the Friendship Heights Alliance and other urban district entities. Further investigation is needed to clarify its purpose and effectiveness.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue and absorb transportation management issues from the Friendship Heights Transportation Management District Advisory Committee.

Purpose:	The Committee advises the County Council, the County Executive and County agencies about hate/violence in the County and recommends such policies, programs, legislation or regulations as it finds necessary to reduce the incidence of acts of hate/violence. An annual report is submitted each year by October 1 to the Executive and Council on the activities of the Committee, including the source and amount of any contribution received from a public or private source to support the activities of the Committee. Members also develop and distribute information about hate/violence in the County; promote educational activities that demonstrate the positive value of ethnic and social diversity in the County; and adopt necessary rules and procedures.
Membership:	Fifteen voting members who are County residents and six nonvoting members. Of the 15 voting members, at least 9 should be identified with ethnic or other groups in the County which are frequently the subject of acts of hate/ violence; at least 2 should be parents of school-age children; and at least one should be identified with the County business community. The six non-voting members are representatives of the County Council, County Executive, Dept. of Police, Human Rights Commission, MCPS, and Montgomery College. No alternates are to be appointed for the non-voting representatives. The County Executive appoints a Chair after receiving a recommendation from the Committee. 2013 Comment:	Membership guidelines are confusing; only 12 of the 15 voting members are clearly defined. Also, lists 15 + 6 nonvoting – while WEB site lists 14+9? Updating County material for consistency is necessary.

COMMITTEE AGAINST HATE/VIOLENCE

	The actual statistics on hate/violent crimes are maintained by the Police Department. Police Staff make presentations to the Committee and provide it with information on victims. This is one of the few Committees that can solicit funds for its activities. It also manages the Partnership Fund for Victims of Hate/Violence. Close coordination with ethnic affairs advisory groups is strongly suggested.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This committee has the mandate to advise the executive and council on mechanisms to oppose and mitigate hate and violence in Montgomery County that is driven by group membership (ethnic, social, belief, etc). CERB members observed the lack of clarity in the Committee's overarching mission, strategy, and authority to cooperate with various County bodies, despite the Committee's attempts. The scope of the problem requires access and coordination with a broad spectrum of county activities to include daycare, schools, health care, and elder care. A review of activities suggests that the committee does not have access or coordination with critical activities such as MCPS. Furthermore, the linkage between the Committee and the Partnership Fund for Victims of Hate/Violence is not clear.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clarify the committee's scope, strategy, and authority • Clarify the role of the committee in collecting and disbursing funds to compensate victims • Improve coordination with MCPS and other county institutions

2013 Comment:	None.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Commission features strong technical expertise from representatives from the community, providers of medical services, and medical societies. Commission public membership tends to be older and wealthier than the general population. Furthermore, it is noted that health care is relevant to the charter of many other BCCs and it is not evident that the Commission on Health is reaching out to the other boards to

2013 Comment:	Newly established board; not under 2013 CERB review.
2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment:	The Commission was described as critically important, with representation from County departments and service providers. However, CERB members expressed concern that individuals experiencing homelessness were not adequately represented or heard during meetings. There was a strong recommendation to include more members with lived experience of homelessness and to ensure that the Commission is responsive to community concerns. While the Commission is well-managed and has a strong charter, its effectiveness is limited by a lack of direct community engagement and unclear oversight within DHHS.

2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment:	The Committee is embedded within the Commission for Women and shares staff and resources. CERB members noted that the Committee’s structure and purpose are unclear—whether it is advisory or coordinating. It was also observed that the Committee has overlapping membership with other boards such as the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission. Members expressed concern about transparency, public accessibility of minutes, and the need for clearer public engagement. The Committee appears to function more as a coordinating body and may be duplicative of efforts already underway within the Commission for Women.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee be eliminated and absorbed into the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission.

2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment:	While noting the importance of the ensuring timely feedback and advise to the County on the needs of the people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, the CERB observed that the scope of this Commission is too broad, resulting in unclear priorities and avenues for community input. The representation of people with I/D disabilities was glaringly inadequate (two

2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Revise the scope of this Commission to narrow its focus and maximize its added value• Consider removing advocacy from the list of purposes and supporting efforts of providers and interest groups through other available avenues, such as grants or joint campaigns• Reduce the number of providers and increase the number of individuals with I/D disabilities among members.

Bill No. 9-12 effective 8/9/12, eliminated one public member position and added one Collaboration Council representative.

Purpose: The Montgomery County Commission on Juvenile Justice is an independent advisory body whose purpose is to advise the County Executive, County Council and the Juvenile Court on matters concerning juveniles. 2013 Comment:	Need to clarify membership details. For example, ensure that the public at large representatives reflect the socio-economic and ethnic makeup of the County. Need to determine how well the agency reps are in place, and should any of the agencies be eliminated from membership. The large membership might contribute to problems, although the observed meetings were very well run. Consideration of reducing the membership to a more manageable number might be warranted.

COMMISSION ON JUVENILE JUSTICE

	CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment	The Commission was described as a coordinating board with limited community outreach. Its work overlaps with the Criminal Justice Coordinating Commission (CJCC) and the Domestic Violence Coordinating Council (DVCC). CERB members noted that the CJCC already has a juvenile justice subcommittee, and that many of the same individuals participate in all three bodies. The Commission was seen as more of an internal advisory group with minimal public engagement.

LIBRARY BOARD

Created:	Montgomery County Code Section 2-46, as amended. Amended by CERB Bill 4-16 eff. 7/20/16 increasing membership and adding 1 member recommended by Montgomery College.
Purpose:	Inquire into matters affecting the County public library system including the acquisition and location of new library facilities, the adequacy of book collections, services to outlying districts and personnel needs of the Department of Libraries and to make recommendations thereon to the County Executive.
Membership:	14 total members: 13 members, including 1 member recommended by Montgomery College and one supervisor of school libraries is an ex officio member of the board.

Staff:	Darcell Graham, Director, 240-777-0012 Regina Holyfield-Jewett, 240-777-0106

2013 Comment:	All information and recent history shows that the Montgomery County Library Board is a very effective group. They maintain close cooperative relationships with two auxiliary organizations, the Friends of the Library (FOL), and the Library Advisory Committees (LAC), thus providing outreach into the community and the users of the libraries. The Board has also conducted effective efforts to lobby for additional funds through the County budget. The Board has expressed interest in adding an ex-officio member to the Board. This request is for a representative from Montgomery College.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no change in its scope and functions, but with a modification with the addition of an ex-officio member position to represent Montgomery College.
2025 Comment:	CERB members noted that libraries now serve broader functions beyond books, including digital media, technology access, and community gathering spaces. The Library Board would bring greater value by coordinating more closely with the Recreation Department, IT, Regional Services, and the individual Library Advisory Committees to reflect this evolving role. There was consensus that the Board is valuable but must adapt to the changing landscape of library services.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue, but with modifications:

2013 Comment:	This Committee is mandated by State Law. Coordination between this committee and the Veteran’s Affairs Commission is warranted. Suggest that consideration be given to the idea that a member be designated to be a representative to the Veterans group.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee boasts diverse membership, consistently strong participation, and constructive relationships with multiple County and State agencies, as well as MCPS. It has strong connections with local organizations, other BCCs, and affinity groups. The CERB noted that the Committee is experiencing mission creep, with a strong desire to act as an advocacy group rather than an advisory body to DHHS. There appears to be a disconnect between the department’s goals and the Committee’s activities.

MID-COUNTY CITIZENS ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	Council Resolution No. 9-40, adopted January 30, 1979.
Purpose:	To provide advice to the Director of the Mid-County Center on area priorities and on ways to tailor services in the center to residents of the region, the board works to identify and understand community issues and advises the County Executive and County Council on the appropriate role for government to assume in resolving these issues.
Membership:	Fifteen members who are residents or business owners in the area.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three year terms - no compensation.
Meetings:	Third Tuesday of each month.
Staff:	Nestor Alvarenga, Director, 240-777-8101

2013 Comment:	One serious problem impacts this Board's operation: the limited staff support available. There is only one staff person at the regional center, and the required support level is difficult to provide. The Board is the first line of interaction between the citizens and the County government, the CERB would suggest that the Board (as one of five regional Boards), continue, but with increased staff support. There should be some additional criteria for selecting members than they live in or own a business in the area. CERB observers noted that the meetings are overly concerned with the details of Robert's Rules of order. This concern with the rules took time away from the discussion of the issues. This may have been an isolated incident; regardless, it was quite an unusual situation for a non-judicial group.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB strongly suggests that all five regional boards be supported by increased staff at the Regional Centers. A staff increase will guarantee that the Boards will be able to do their job even better than now.
2025 Comment:	This Board is very active and well-functioning; its activities are aligned with the stated purpose. The CERB questioned why nine out of 15 members were Silver Spring residents, while Silver Spring is already covered by East County Citizen Advisory Board and Silver Spring Citizen Advisory Board. Additionally, CERB members noted that the Wheaton Urban District Advisory Board overlaps in its function with this Board.

2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue, and absorb the issues currently covered by Wheaton Urban District Advisory Board to reduce duplication and strengthen participation. The CERB further recommends strengthening targeted recruitment of community members from the Mid-County region and avoiding representation overlap with other regional advisory boards.

240-777-4422, Ashley Miller, Phone: (240)-672-4931

2013 Comment:	Two “ex-officio” members are counted in the voting total of 17. Perhaps they should be listed as regular members. Meetings of this large board are well attended. The meetings, with presenters, speakers, etc., run from 2-3 hours. Members observe Roberts Rules of Order throughout the meeting.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	This Board channels outstanding technical expertise from representatives of the involved agencies, providers, and experts. However, representation of community members on this Board has been lacking.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB further recommends that the Board emphasize targeted recruitment among current/former recipients of services under the Montgomery Cares Program to ensure greater representation and engagement of beneficiaries.

PEDESTRIAN, BICYCLE, AND TRAFFIC SAFETY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Created:	County Council Resolution No. 14-1281 (as amended 10/11/05), and County Council Resolution No. 16-192 (adopted 6/19/07) extending the Committee and amending Mo.Co.Code § 49-81 , and Bill 27-11 (eff. 2/6/12), amending § 49-81, repealing the sunset of the PTSAC, renaming the committee, and adding a member representing the disability community.

Membership:	17 members appointed by the County Executive and confirmed by the County Council. The Executive must appoint a representative from each of the following: Police Department, Department of Transportation, and one of the Regional Services Centers. The Executive must invite a representative from the County Council, County Planning Board, Montgomery County Public Schools, and the State Highway Administration. The Executive must appoint one member representing a municipality from a list provided by the County Chapter of the Maryland Municipal League, one bicycle advocate and one representative of people with disabilities. The Executive must appoint the remaining individuals from different geographic areas of the County.
Officers:	The County Executive must designate a member of the Committee to be Chair. The Chair will be appointed for one two-year term.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three-years - The term of the Committee originally ended at the expiration of 5 years (7/2007), but was extended until 7/2012. Bill 27-11 eff. 2-6-12 repealed the sunset of the committee.

PEDESTRIAN, BICYCLE, AND TRAFFIC SAFETY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.

PEDESTRIAN, BICYCLE, AND TRAFFIC SAFETY ADVISORY COMMITTEE

2025 Comment	The CERB noted that the Committee experienced significant recruiting and member retention issues, resulting in cancellation of multiple meetings. The inclusion of 8 representatives of government agencies, many of whom routinely did not attend meetings, limited input from members of the public. Inequitable representation from all County districts and an over-emphasis on bicycling concerns further skewed the focus of this Committee. Pedestrian and traffic safety matters are also being tackled by several other BCCs.
2025 Recommendation	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee be eliminated as a standalone body. The CERB further recommends to narrow down areas of concern and incorporate them into every Regional Advisory Committee's scope for equitable, resident-driven input. Alternatively, consider assigning issues related to Vision Zero to a term-limited, resident-heavy advisory body that would sunset with the Action Plan's 2030 target date.

2013 Comment:	There appears to be a need to have a representative from the Commission on Veterans Affairs added to the membership. Due to the nature and importance of the work done by this Commission, there is a great deal of staff time provided to ensure all issues are handled efficiently. There are 5 non-voting Ex-officio members; a question was raised as to how frequently they attend. 	the Executive to appoint “at least 5” in this category. Does that mean that 6 or 12 might be acceptable?
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue but with the modification of adding a representative from the Commission on Veterans Affairs.
2025 Comment:	This Commission effectively engages with the community on disability-related issues and County services. However, member retention has been a repeated challenge.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB further recommends a particular emphasis on increased targeted member recruitment and retention incentives.

Staff: Leah Ortiz, Department of Permitting Services
255 Rockville Pike, Rockville, MD 20850
Phone: 240-777-6272

2013 Comment:	The committee provides a critical function, and draws from a wide range of stakeholders of the building and development industry. Its primary function is to advise the Department of Permitting Services on its performance, and secondarily to advise the Executive and Council on needed changes. Most BCCs do not appear to be so closely tied to a Department.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF PERMITTING SERVICES

2025 Comment:	This Committee has experienced challenges with member recruitment. CERB members noted a lack of clarity in whether the Commission truly channels public input to advise the Department of Permitting Services or serves as a de-facto coordination body for various County agencies and a semi-formal escalation channel for complaints.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Review the purpose and classification of this Committee to either focus on advising the Department of Permitting Services, per its title, or be recategorized as Tier 2 - Coordinating Body, to streamline collaboration from relevant County agencies and divisions.

RACIAL EQUITY AND SOCIAL JUSTICE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

2013 Comment:	Newly established board; not under 2013 CERB review.
2013 Recommendation:	N/A
2025 Comment:	CERB members praise the Committee's commitment to equity and its data-driven approach. However, they noted concerns about the lack of clarity on how collected data is being translated into actionable outcomes. The Committee meets virtually, which may limit broader community engagement.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB further recommends the Committee improve data utilization and increase in-person engagement opportunities to strengthen community participation.

RUSTIC ROADS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Chairman of the Planning Board must designate one member of the Planning Staff as a non-voting member.

Financial Disclosure: Not required.

Terms: Three years.

Lobbying: The Committee must not engage in any advocacy activity at the State or federal levels unless that activity is approved by the Office of Intergovernmental Relations.

Meetings: Meetings are usually held the 4th Thursday of each month at 6:00 p.m.

Staff: Chris Van Alstyne, DOT
101 Monroe Street, Rockville
Phone: 240-777-4934

2013 Comment:	A rustic road is a fragile piece of the landscape that can be ruined by tree removal, grading, and other construction. Once the damage is done, there is usually no comeback or repair. The County residents on the committee observe whether rustic road protection rules in the zoning ordinances are being followed. They make observations that County Staff cannot afford the time to do. The cost factors to support this effort are minimal. Local residents are more than willing to help protect this valuable resource.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee plays a unique role in preserving the County's agricultural and historic roadways. CERB members noted its importance in balancing tourism, preservation, and agricultural needs.

RUSTIC ROADS ADVISORY COMMITTEE

	While some discussion occurred about merging it with other groups, the consensus was that its distinct mission justifies its continued independence.

SILVER SPRING CITIZENS ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	Resolution No. 8-449. Executive Order No. 35-99 increases membership to 18 members, effective 2/19/99
Purpose:	To strengthen communication between the community and the various agencies of the County Government, coordinate necessary interagency action with regard to Silver Spring, and recommend programs and policies tailored to the Silver Spring area.
Membership:	18 members
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three-year terms.
Meetings:	Usually second Monday of each month.
Staff:	Nahom Tekle Silver Spring Civic Building at Veterans Plaza, One Veterans Place Silver Spring, MD 20910 Telephone: 240-777-5307

2013 Comment:	One serious problem that impacts this Board's operation: the limited staff support available. There is only one staff person at the regional center, and the required support level is difficult to provide. The Board is the first line of interaction between the citizens and the County government. CERB suggests that the Board (as one of 5 regional Boards), continue, but with increased staff support. There should be some criteria listed for selecting members; can it be presumed that they must at least live or own a business in the area? The Board is lending its support to important ongoing initiatives in the Silver Spring area, such as the tree trimming program by Pepco; making the area greener; closing certain in-demand soccer fields for renovation; visiting and supporting the small business incubator in Silver Spring; supporting the Small Business Saturday initiative; and encouraging use of the Silver Spring Civic Building. For conformity among the committees, suggest name change to "Down County Citizens Advisory Board".
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB strongly suggests that all five regional boards be supported by increased staff at the Regional Centers. A staff increase will guarantee that the Boards will be able to do their job even better than now.

2025 Comment:	The Board's work is aligned with the stated purpose. At the same time the CERB noted consistent challenges with meeting attendance and community engagement and raised concerns that Silver Spring residents also serve on the Mid-County Citizen Advisory Board and the East County Citizen Advisory Board. CERB members further questioned the need for a separate Silver Spring advisory body considering the existence of the highly effective East County CAB, but acknowledged the geographic and socio-economic divergence of these two regions that warrant separate civic advisory boards.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Absorb the Silver Spring Transportation Management District Advisory Committee• Absorb the Silver Spring Urban District Advisory Committee• Review and clarify stated purpose and functions resulting from these mergers

2013 Comment:	Are non-voting members “ex-officio”? This is an example of the variety of ex officios.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no change to its scope or functions.

2013 Comment:	The membership section contains the awkward wording "The County Executive must strive to" Clearer wording would definitely be appropriate.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	CERB members observed that the Committee is interlocked with other Silver Spring boards and suffers from limited coordination and unclear roles. Some meetings lacked quorum or public participation.

2013 Comment:	Committee members have consistently striven to reduce administrative costs, including taking their own minutes. Committee members expressed frustration at maintaining sufficient membership, and the frequency of not having a quorum. The question has partially been answered by providing the committee with a clearer interpretation of the membership rules.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Committee was described as well-run and focused on real issues in alignment with its stated purpose. CERB members found no concerns with its operations.

Rockville, MD 20850, Phone: 240-777-7193

2013 Comment:	The Committee did not meet at all in 2012; all 11 positions are currently vacant. The lack of interest suggests that issues are not important or are handled internally by staff. This status has been confirmed by Department of Transportation leadership, and they are agreeable to eliminating the Taxicab Services Advisory Committee. The Department assures CERB that all issues are adequately addressed by departmental staff. There also appears to be no objection from the taxicab industry itself.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee be eliminated, and that all former functions and responsibilities be assumed by Departmental staff.
2025 Comment:	The Committee was determined to be no longer operating as envisioned, with persistent recruitment and participation challenges. CERB members noted that its functions could be absorbed by the Office of Consumer Protection or other transportation-related entities.
2025 Recommendation:	The Commission should be eliminated. Functions related to consumer concerns could be absorbed by the Office of Consumer Protection or other transportation-related entities.

UPCOUNTY CITIZENS ADVISORY BOARD

Created:	Resolution No. 10-1279, adopted May 7, 1985 Resolution No. 12-1724, adopted July 5, 1994 Resolution No. 14-223 staggered terms, effective 7/27/99.
Purpose:	Review and comment, within statutory requirements and guidelines, proposed zoning amendments and section map amendments, master plans and related plan amendments, six year capital improvements program (CIP) of County and bi-County agencies, operating budgets of County and bi-County agencies; health and human service matters, land acquisition by County and other government agencies, location and design of fire stations, schools, recreation centers, libraries and other government buildings and facilities, transportation routes, schedules and services within the County, including school busing, and all other matters coming before the County government for decision which relate to, or affect, the Upcounty Center's service area. Advise the Director of the Upcounty Center in identifying demographic, economic and social patterns in the area.
Membership:	20 members, representing a cross-section of citizens living or working in the Upcounty region, such as in Germantown, Gaithersburg, Laytonsville, Damascus, Poolesville, Clarksburg, Montgomery Village, and North Potomac.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three year terms - no compensation.
Meetings:	Third Monday of each month at 7 pm, Upcounty Government Center, Germantown.
Staff:	Ruben Rosario, Director, Upcounty RSC, 12900 Middlebrook Road, Germantown, MD 20874. 240-777-8040

2013 Comment:	One serious problem impacts this Board's operation: the limited staff support available. There is only one staff person at the regional service center, and the required support level is difficult to provide. The Citizens Advisory Board is the first line of interaction between the citizens and the County government. CERB suggests that the Board (as one of four regional Boards), continue, but with increased staff support to maintain effectiveness. The Centers have been cut one time too many. It is incomprehensible that such important entities continue without even basic staff support.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that the Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB strongly suggests that all five regional boards be supported by increased staff at the Regional Services Centers.
2025 Comment:	The CERB observed that the Board still suffers from limited staff support, which impacts its effectiveness in engaging with Upcounty residents. As the population of the Upcounty region is rapidly growing, the Board would especially benefit from staff support to collect or make available the relevant data to inform its recommendations. The CERB also noted limited community engagement and a lack of field meetings across the largest geographic coverage area of all regional advisory boards.

2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions. The CERB further recommends that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Staff support for this staff be increased, with an eye for improved access to necessary County data and higher community outreach capacity • The Board conduct proactive outreach to homeowners' associations and other community groups, including by heavily advertising thematic meetings • The Board conduct meetings in various places across the Upcounty region to improve reach and resident engagement

2013 Comment:	CERB feels strongly that a representative from the Commission on People with Disabilities and the Commission on Mental Health be added to the membership. Membership details need to be revised.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue but with the modification of adding a representative from the Commission on People with Disabilities and the Commission on Mental Health.
2025 Comment:	The Board has achieved notable accomplishments in disseminating information and assisting veterans, despite some challenges with outreach to the target audience. Better coordination with County departments and state agencies could improve access to the necessary data to inform recommendations on service provision and outreach. The CERB also observed the Commission could increase added value by also serving military families as many of them face similar challenges.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Consider expanding the scope of the Commission to include military families and renaming the Commission to reflect this change.

2013 Comment:	CERB has noted that this is a very active Board, and provides a valuable function in helping victims of criminal violence.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The CERB noted strong and productive relationships this Board has with County departments, community organizations, County Council, and beyond. The accomplishments of this Board are well-defined and tied to the stated purpose, its work is data-driven and rooted in in-depth analysis. This Board stands out as it has support of two full-time staff. The CERB noted that member recruitment is a continuous challenge.

VICTIM SERVICES ADVISORY BOARD

WATER QUALITY ADVISORY GROUP

Created:	Montgomery County Code, Section 19-49, Adopted August 1996
Purpose:	To protect, maintain, and restore high-quality chemical, physical, and biological conditions in the waters of the state in the County; help fulfill interjurisdictional commitments to restore and maintain the integrity of the Anacostia River, the Potomac River; and the Chesapeake Bay; and promote and support educational and volunteer initiatives that enhance public awareness and increase direct participation in stream stewardship and reduction of water pollution. Recommends to the Executive and the Council by March 1 each year water quality goals, objectives, policies and programs.
Membership:	15 voting members, including up to three representatives each of the academic and scientific community, environmental community, agricultural community, and the business community, with the rest from the public at large. Up to 3 non-voting representatives of government agencies may be appointed.
Officers:	Group selects Chair and other officers annually.
Financial Disclosure:	Not required.
Terms:	Three year terms—no compensation.
Meetings:	Second Monday night of each month, 255 Rockville Pike, #140, Rockville.
Staff:	Miranda Reid, Senior Watershed Planner Dept. of Environmental Protection Phone: (240) 773-0802

2013 Comment:	Total membership appears to be 18. The Group members provide a high technical support base for the County government in relation to water quality within the county as well as within the region. Meetings are well attended, and members are working to reduce costs, even to the point of taking turns writing up the meeting minutes.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Group continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	The Group is well-resourced with technical expertise. The CERB noted low community participation and limited issues of residents' concern brought up in meetings. There is some thematic overlap on climate-related concerns with Climate, Energy and Air Quality Advisory Committee. However, the CERB acknowledged the tailored expertise required on water quality issues that warrants a standalone body to coordinate actions on existing interjurisdictional commitments and to educate the public.

WATER QUALITY ADVISORY GROUP

	Tier 2 – Coordinating Body, considering the interjurisdictional scope of related commitments, heavy participation of professional communities, and limited community engagement.

2013 Comment:	One serious problem that impacts this Board's operation: the limited staff support available. There is only one staff person at the regional center, and the required support level is difficult to provide. The Citizens Advisory Board is the first line of interaction between the citizens and the County government. 2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue with no changes to its scope or functions, but with a modification to its name. CERB recommends that this Board be renamed the West County Citizens Advisory Board, thereby conforming to the naming convention in use for the other four regional boards. The CERB strongly suggests that all five regional boards be supported by increased staff at the Regional Centers.

WESTERN MONTGOMERY COUNTY CITIZENS ADVISORY BOARD

2025 Comment:	The CERB noted heavy representation from Bethesda (11 out of 19 members) and a lack of diversity on the Board; meeting attendance has also been a challenge. The Board would also benefit from enhanced outreach and partnerships with homeowners' associations and community groups. The CERB also noted a confusing inconsistency between the title of the Regional Services Center (Bethesda-Chevy Chase), the name of this advisory body (Western Montgomery), and the inclusion of the City of Rockville into this Board's coverage area.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Board continue, but with modifications: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Consider changing the name of this Board and the associated Regional Services Center to ensure alignment and avoid naming confusion• Improve recruitment efforts to ensure that member representation is more balanced across all service areas• Improve community engagement and outreach to the numerous HOAs and community associations across the service area

Staff:	Nestor Alvarenga 240-777-8101, Mid-County Services Center, 2425 Reedie Drive, Wheaton

2013 Comment:	As noted in the Comments for the Wheaton Redevelopment Advisory Committee, there are major overlaps between the WRAC and WUDAC. In line with the recommendation to eliminate the WRAC, their functions should now move to those of the WUDAC. Among other things, this action would result in reduced BCC staff time. WUDAC, in order to preserve continuity and make use of extensive experience, should incorporate as many WRAC members into WUDAC as possible.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Committee continue, but with a modification whereby the functions of the eliminated Wheaton Redevelopment Advisory Board are incorporated. Representation from the current Wheaton Redevelopment Advisory Committee should be incorporated.
2025 Comment	CERB members noted that this committee overlaps in function with the Mid-County Citizens Advisory Board. They suggested that consolidating the Wheaton Urban District Advisory Committee under the Mid-County

WHEATON URBAN DISTRICT ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Community Engagement Cluster,
21 Maryland Ave. – Suite 330, Rockville, MD 20850
Phone: 240-777-8333

Note: See comments above relative to staff support needs.

2013 Comment:	Functions with limited staff support, and really needs more help considering the broad issues covered. This commission operates with only one full-time staff member and maintains an aggressive agenda and goals in support of women. This includes Commission for Women (CFW) goals of staying relevant, setting trends, helping women in the County, being progressive and in the fore-front of issues, while avoiding duplicative efforts. All of this is done with limited resources. It is still a critical time for women regarding health and safety, economic and financial, and educational issues, especially for impoverished and immigrant women, who need groups like the CFW to advocate for them.
2013 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission continue with no changes to its scope or functions.
2025 Comment:	CERB members found the Commission to be active and effective, with a clear mission and strong programming. However, they noted that it functions more like a County agency than a traditional advisory board. It has its own budget, staff, and programming, including events like the Legislative Briefing and Human Trafficking Prevention Committee, which is not typical of other BCCs. The Commission also hosts interns and has partnerships with institutions like the University of Maryland. Some CERB members raised concerns about transparency, such as the lack of publicly posted agendas and minutes.
2025 Recommendation:	After careful analysis and consideration of available information, the CERB recommends that this Commission be re-categorized as Tier 4 - County Agency.

1. Introduction

This Interim Report is submitted to the Montgomery County Executive and Council by the Committee Evaluation and Review Board (CERB), as required by Montgomery County Code Article XI, Sec. 2-146 (c) (2).

Purpose of the Committee Evaluation and Review Board

As stipulated in Sec. 2-146 of the Montgomery County Code, the Montgomery County Executive must appoint and convene the Committee Evaluation and Review Board. This body is a citizens review committee that reviews each of the Montgomery County Advisory Committees and Boards appointed under Sec. 2-146. In 2011, the Montgomery County Council expanded its responsibilities to not only review committees but also review the committee system as a whole.

Specifically, the task of the CERB is to “review the group system and each then-existing board, committee, commission, and task force and report to the Executive and Council its recommendations for changes in individual boards, committees, commissions, and task forces and the group system as a whole.” Additionally, the CERB “must review each advisory board that requests continuation under subsection (b)(2) and recommend to the Council whether the advisory board should continue.”

The CERB is mandated to evaluate 98 boards, committees, and commissions (BCCs), of which 50 are “advisory,” as defined in Montgomery County Code Sec. 2-146 Editor’s note Sec. 3. (b) (1).

The most recent CERB was formed in 2012 and delivered its findings and recommendations to the County Executive and Council in 2013. The current CERB was appointed on May 22, 2024, more than 10 years after the previous review effort. CERB members realize the particular urgency to their mandate given the extended timeframe since the previous review.

CERB Composition

The current CERB, consisting of 13 members, officially convened on the 11th of July. Since July 2024, the CERB has experienced two resignations that lowered the member count to the minimum requirement of 11. The members of the CERB as of January 1, 2025, are:

Anthony Buccitelli, Justin Carlson, Jake Didinsky, Muriel Hairston-Cooper, Mary Ann Keeffe, Deeptaanshu Kumar, Sofya Orlosky (Chair), Karl Pitt, Catherine Sindos, Jeffrey Slavin, and Clint Sobratti.

The CERB is supported by Assistant Chief Administrative Officer Ken Hartman-Espada, and Administrative Specialist, Beth Gochrach, as selected by the County Executive as per the statutory requirements.

2. Assumptions and Constraints

The CERB is established under Sec. 2-146 to: review the group system and each then-existing board, committee, commission, and task force and report to the Executive and Council its recommendations for changes in individual boards, committees, commissions, and task forces and the group system as a whole and submit an interim report to the Executive and Council within 6 months of appointment and submit a final report within 12 months of appointment.

The CERB has been unable to reach consensus on the interpretation of Sec. 2-146 (as amended by Bill 32-11 (1) and Bill 2-05 (2) and as executed in the 2013 CERB report) pertaining to the scope and coverage of the 2024 CERB review and CERB report.

The CERB asks that the Chief Administrative Officer (in accordance with Sec. 2-147 subsections (b) and (c)) work with Mr. Ken Hartman and the Office of the County Attorney to provide the CERB with interpretation and direction concerning the scope of CERB review and CERB report.

Given the lack of consensus on the scope of review of non-advisory BCCs, the CERB commenced its work by focusing on advisory BCCs.

3. Methodology

The CERB embarked on its dual mandate to evaluate the group system overall and each advisory board, committee, or commission individually by establishing a grounding framework.

The CERB review seeks to determine whether the advisory BCCs understand and dutifully implement their mandates, and whether they do so effectively and with the most efficient use of County resources.

The overarching policy premise for the establishment of various BCCs in Montgomery County is that “[p]ublic participation in boards, committees, and commissions contributes to the work of County government and provides a valuable service to the community by presenting the concerns and viewpoints of County residents on a variety of issues.”¹ Thus, the CERB worked with County Staff to develop evaluation questions that gauge the BCCs’ ability to effectively channel the varied experiences and needs of the diverse Montgomery County community into the work of the County government in an equitable way. By conducting the review through the equitable engagement lens, the CERB attempts to assess how effective BCCs are in informing communities about issues of focus, facilitating open dialogue with government agencies, soliciting and channeling feedback from diverse members of the public, and champion initiatives that empower county residents to actively shape their communities.

Within this framework, the CERB’s review and recommendations will be based on the analysis of data collected using the following instruments:

- A self-assessment questionnaire distributed to all BCCs (see template in Appendix A)
- Direct observation of the regularly scheduled BCC meetings (see assessment form in Appendix B)
- Interviews with the heads of relevant County departments
- Review of the recommendations from the 2013 CERB Final Report

4. Progress to Date

The CERB has been meeting monthly since its initial meeting. Following the establishment of the overall framework for the review, the CERB developed the self-assessment questionnaire, the direct observation form, and the schedule of visits to the advisory BCCs.

The CERB distributed self-assessment questionnaires to all advisory BCCs on August 30, 2024, and provided the required 60 days for the BCCs to return them to the CERB. As of the submission date of this Interim Report, of the 50 BCCs, 48 answered the questionnaires. Two BCCs did not answer the questionnaires: the White Flint Downtown Advisory Committee is sunsetting, and the Workforce Development Board did not respond.

As of the submission date of this Interim Report, the CERB conducted 39 total visits to the advisory BCCs. Of the remaining 11 BCCs, two will not be visited: the Community Development Advisory Committee does not meet until November 2025 and the White Flint Downtown Advisory Committee is sunsetting.

5. Early Findings

The ambiguity of the law which establishes and governs the mandate of the CERB significantly complicates this Board's task. While the scope of "the first Committee Evaluation and Review Board appointed after November 8, 2011" is spelled out clearly, further clarifications are needed for the subsequent iterations of the CERB, in particular as it pertains to non-advisory BCCs.

Nevertheless, while prioritizing the review of advisory BCCs, each member of the CERB has had an opportunity to visit and observe the work of multiple advisory county boards, committees, and/or commissions. It is evident that Montgomery County provides a vast range of opportunities for community input and feedback on government services and critical issues through its system of advisory boards, committees, and commissions. Overall, members of BCCs are committed to the mandates of their groups, stay consistently engaged, and contribute diverse and relevant professional and lived experiences to their work.

At the same time, the CERB has noted that multiple BCCs have struggled to recruit members, in particular members representing the diverse communities of the entire County. Initial observations also suggest that BCCs have inconsistent experiences in and approaches to informing communities about their work, inviting county residents' input on issues meaningful to their communities, and collecting and channeling feedback on Montgomery County government's work. There are also opportunities to streamline the work of some BCCs to avoid duplication of effort or to improve focus.

6. Next Steps

The CERB recognizes that much work remains to be done in order to collect the necessary data, analyze it, distill findings, and develop its recommendations. The immediate priority is seeking guidance from the Office of the County Attorney on the scope of this CERB's mandate as it pertains to non-advisory BCCs. This guidance will determine the next steps in reviewing and evaluating those boards, committees, and commissions. The CERB will also address the remaining methodological questions as regards this Board's charge.

Additionally, in the next six months, the CERB will visit the remaining advisory BCCs, conduct interviews with relevant County Department heads and staff, and then analyze the data collected through BCC self-assessment questionnaires, direct observation forms, and interviews. If necessary, and if time allows, the CERB may conduct follow-up visits or interviews with individual BCCs. This work will culminate in the development of recommendations for the Final Report.

7. Timeline

The CERB aims to provide its Final Report to the Montgomery County Executive and Council in July 2025.
